Trustees wanted by leisure managers

THE charitable body that manages leisure facilities in Cannock Chase is recruiting two new trustees.

Wigan Culture and Leisure Trust manages the facilities, including Chase and Rugeley Leisure Centres, the Museum of Cannock Chase and the Prince of Wales Centre, on behalf of Cannock Chase Council.

One of the new trustees will take on the role of Audit Committee chairman.

Chief Executive Stuart Murray said: "We are looking for people who can help us achieve our mission and ensure that the organisation is effectively managed."

Difference

"Our board of trustees bring together a group of people with a diverse range of life experiences, offering their time voluntarily to assist us in our work to make a real difference to people's wellbeing."

Further details about the trustee role can be found at www.wlct.org/work-with-us/

To express an interest in becoming a trustee, contact Stephen Riley at s.riley@wlct.org or on 01942 828257. Application close at 5pm on November 22.

Rugby ace in dinner date

ENGLAND and British Lion hooker Lee Mears will be the guest speaker at a rugby club function next month.

He will be joined by comedian John Stiles, son of England football hero Nobby, for the Burntwood RUFC annual dinner and presentation night.

It takes place at the Sportsway, North Shore, Burntwood, from 7pm on Saturday, November 23 after the club's league match against Newcastle.

Tickets are £30, on sale in the clubhouse or call Martyn Smith on 07792 390190.

SAFETY PLEA AFTER RACE DRIVER DEATH

Group puts on a wizard production

A MUSICAL theatre company is following the yellow brick road as it stages a cinema classic this week.

The Wizard of Oz will be staged by Rugeley Musical Group at the Rose Theatre in Taylors Lane.

Shows began last night (Wednesday) and run until Saturday.

And organisers are promising a few surprises for anyone who has only seen the famous film – as their production is faithful to the original play.

Emily Appleby, who plays the Wicked Witch of the West, said: "There are quite a few differences – I don't want to give too much away but some people might be quite surprised."

The group stages at least one big show a year, with fundraising concerts in between, and this latest production follows successful runs of The Three Musketeers and Oklahoma!

Miss Appleby, aged 26, a committee secretary for the group, added: "Rehearsals have been going fantastically."

The group first tackled The Wizard of Oz 13 years ago.

"It's a timeless classic and it's the kind of story everyone loves," Miss Appleby added.

"We still have some members who took part in the previous production."

She added the group always tried to put on a range of different shows to appeal to all kinds of audiences.

The Rose Theatre shows start at 7.30pm with a 2.30pm matinee on Saturday. For ticket details, call 07870 249824.

A CORONER has called for better safety measures at stock car racing after a driver was killed in front of hundreds of horrified spectators.

An inquest into David Weare's death found he died as the result of an accident.

Mr Weare was struck by another car after climbing out of his vehicle when it ran into a fence at the Pre-68 Classic Banger Day at Hedgesford Hills Raceway on September 25, 2011.

The inquest was told some drivers were 'confused' about the meaning of certain flags used to communicate safety messages to drivers.

Mr Weare, a 43-year-old father-of-two from Devon, was competing at Hedgesford for the first time in a race involving around 50 cars, organised by Incarace Ltd.

Measures

South Staffordshire Coroner Andrew Haigh is writing to governing body the Oval Racing Council International, calling for better safety measures to be implemented.

Race director Paul Gerrard told the inquest that drivers were advised to stay in their cars at all times.

He said: "It is up to the driver if they decide to vacate their car, although they are told not to for their own safety."

"We have marshals situated inside and outside the track and they are able to get a clear indication from the drivers if they are happy with a thumbs-up signal."

"We also use a flag system to communicate. All drivers are aware of the flag system."

An investigation into Mr Weare's death was carried out by Staffordshire Police and officers from Cannock Chase Council's Environmental Health Department.

Senior environmental health officer at Cannock Chase Council, Lindsey Ellison, told the hearing: "After speaking to some drivers, it seemed there was some confusion over what a yellow flag meant."

"Some believed it signalled there was a hazard ahead, while some thought it meant that a driver was getting out of his vehicle."

"With that in mind, there was no protection for drivers in their vehicles. Incarace Ltd decided that to exit a vehicle should be a driver's choice in all circumstances."

"In light of this, a notice was served on the company to make changes, which they implemented."

Mr Haigh recorded an accidental death verdict.

He said: "Mr Weare was an experienced car racer. He was doing something he enjoyed and it was a shame he left the vehicle."

Legion to remember its fallen comrades

THE ROYAL British Legion in Rugeley will once again pay homage to fallen comrades who gave their lives in conflict.

Preparations are now under way for the annual Remembrance parade and service on Sunday, November 10.

A church service takes place at St Augustine's Church in Station Road at 9.15am. Standards will form outside at 9am ready for carrying into the church.

At the end of the service at 10.20am, those taking part in the parade will back to Rugeley Progressive Working Men's Club at Mansfield House.

Direction

There, they will form up under the direction of the parade marshal on the Mansfield House/Aldi car park, in Market Street at 10.30am.

The parade will march off at 10.45, led by the band, to the war memorial.

A march back to the club will follow the service ahead of refreshments being served in Ollys Bar, Bow Street, next to the old Royal British Legion Club.

Wreaths can be collected from Ollys Bar between 7 and 8.30pm on November 8 and from 11am to 1pm the following day.

Pitmen fans under attack

HEDNESFORD Town supporters were subjected to a 'barrage of bricks and stones' following a dramatic FA Cup win at West Auckland, it has been claimed.

The Pitmen won the third qualifying round replay 4-2 on penalties despite playing for almost an hour with nine men after two sendings-off.

But the night was overshadowed when supporters came under attack as they tried to leave the Seagrave Stadium. The supporters' coach was forced to drive off, leaving around 15 fans behind, before later returning.

GERMAN ELECTRIC HEATING IS THE ANSWER

This incredible heating could be the answer to help beat the ever increasing energy costs and amazingly, it is not, gas or oil, or solid fuel – but electric! It's clean, Simple to install, Powerful, Economical, and no more servicing costs - EVER! All you need is a normal electricity supply and a plug socket and NO standard tariff like economy seven.

In Germany, Austria, Eastern Europe and even America, more and more people are choosing to heat their homes and offices with this very special form of electric heating in preference to gas, oil, LPG or any other form of conventional central heating or economy seven.

Here in the Midlands more and more of our customers are making that same decision and when you see this incredible heating for yourself, you could be next!

The heating looks just like a conventional radiator, but STOP! It is very, very different!

Put simply, the clunky central heating boiler needing constant servicing, and replacement parts isn't the only choice any more!

Now you can choose to heat your homes, offices, extensions or conservatories with this incredible German heating which provides individual control over every single room without the need for a central control or space to site a boiler. Now the boiler space can also become a storage area!

Installation takes minutes and running is completely clean, there is no danger of leakage, no holes through walls, no floorboards up and no tradesmen trundling around the house wielding pipe cutters, hammers, wrenches and dirty work boots. This incredible heating, simply plugs in and that's it! Job Done! You can even do just one room or the whole house!

Fundraising curries favour with hospital

A RESTAURANT owner has handed over a cheque for £700 to Birmingham Children's Hospital. The money was raised at a charity night to mark the grand reopening of the Dilshad in Cannock Road, Chads Moor, in June.

Owner Tony Uddin presented Professor Anita Macdonald with the cheque. He said: "It is a pleasure to hand over the cheque to Anita. We are delighted to fundraise for Birmingham Children's Hospital because it is such a fantastic cause. We have raised money for the hospital on several occasions now and we will continue to do so in the future. The event was so popular that we will be staging it on an annual basis."

Professor Macdonald, consultant metabolic dietician at the hospital said: "I want to thank the Dilshad and its customers for this wonderful donation. The money will go to the inherited metabolic disorders unit of the hospital."

The Dilshad is the most established Indian restaurant in Cannock and has won a clutch of awards. It is also home to the UK's hottest curry – The Dilshad Inferno.

To book a table call 01543 570264.

Worries as green space to be lost for housing

THE leader of Cannock Council claims turning open space popular with dog walkers into a new housing estate will be a 'huge loss' to the area.

Persimmon Homes announced it would be starting work at the 22-acre Pye Green Valley site in Hednesford early next year.

Steven Woodward, a director at Mushemi Fire on the Trent Valley industrial estate, will enjoy a seven-night bed and breakfast stay in the Caribbean after winning the second annual Dorothy Clive Chilli Festival.

In all, 18 sauces were entered into the 'True Blue Bay Best Chilli Sauce Contest' judged by spice expert, chef, TV presenter and culinary expert Emma Grazette. The contest was open to amateurs and professionals, aged 18 and above.

Mr Woodward's hot sauce 'Mother's Ruin' includes fermented Scotch Bonnets, lemon, gin, sugar and vinegar. It was chosen for its simplicity yet flavoured notes and has earned its creator a stay at the True Blue Bay Hotel in Grenada.

Mushemi Fire sells Zambian inspired chill products and Mr Woodward said: "I am absolutely delighted."

"To have won a week's break in Grenada at the True Blue Bay Hotel is just so exciting."

"Our first batch of Mother's Ruin will be ready for release in the coming weeks."

A total of 330 new homes are being built on the piece of land, popular with walkers and children.

But council leader George Adamson said he was very disappointed the land was being developed into hundreds of homes.

He said the town was already lacking open space and losing part of Pye Green Valley would make the situation worse.

Councillor Adamson said: "That area has been open space for quite some time. It's very popular with people who take their dogs for a walk or for youngsters to play on."

"What worries me is that there is not a lot of green space in Hednesford."

Argued

"You've got Hednesford Park in the town and Cannock Chase surrounding it but that's it. It's going to be a huge loss."

The site, which was controversially sold by Staffordshire County Council, was the location of the former West Cannock Collieries. Residents and councillors were up in arms about the deal. They argued the land should have been kept as open space.

Some of the money used from the sale of the land in Pye Green Valley is being used to fund the development of the former Cannock Stadium site in Pye Green Road.

Bosses from Persimmon Homes are currently in talks with the county council over a starting date for the scheme.

Grapes of rock to fight poverty

A PENKRIDGE man is doing his bit for charity by staging a live music fundraiser in aid of Oxfam.

The Oxfam festival, held at Grapes Music Bar in Bridge Street, Stafford, has been organised by events promoter Robbie Meakin.

The 22-year-old said: "There was an advert on TV and I thought I would give it a go. I want to do my bit for Oxfam. It is held across October all over the country and it is gigs of all shapes and sizes."

The month-long Oxfam festival began in 2006 with the aim of creating a network of music-loving people across the UK to raise money to fight poverty and suffering around the world.

Metal band Hallencourt will headline the event in Stafford on October 24 from 8pm with others on the bill including Beyond Hurt, Turn and Run and Kill the Doctor.

Tickets for the show at the Grapes is £2 on the door although people are encouraged to make further donations.

Historic pictures of village on show

A VILLAGE history group hosts its annual exhibition this weekend. Bridgtown and Beyond the Bridges is the theme of the event staged by Bridgtown & District Local History Society.

It takes place from 10am to 4pm on Sunday, October 20, at Bridgtown Social Club in Walsall Road.

Many new photographs and documents relating to village life in the 30s, 40s and 50s will be on display at the free event Refreshments will be served.

Derrick Middleton, from the group, said: "The society has been formed for approaching five years, and has achieved many of its original aims, including building up knowledge of the history of the village and establishing an archive of photographs and memorabilia which has been the base for the annual event."

He said the next stage was to bring together people who could continue to grow the knowledge base to include the 60s, 70s and 80s periods, including the growth of new industry and the fight to keep the village alive.

To help the society to grow, visit the exhibition or call 01543 277268.

Body cams for officers

EVERY single frontline police officer on duty in Staffordshire will be given body cameras to wear as part of a scheme being launched next week.

A total of 530 cameras will be provided by Staffordshire Police. The moves will cost £330,000.

Police and Crime Commissioner Matthew Ellis said the body cameras would offer a deterrent to anyone wanting to attack an officer.

They will be used to take photos to help in criminal cases, and speed up the force's complaints process, as there will now be accurate images of officers' actions to address allegations.

Clairvoyant night

A HEDNESFORD club is the venue for an evening of clairvoyance. It takes place on Wednesday, October 30 at the Greenheath Working Men's Club in Greenheath Road at 7.30pm. It is a ticket-only event, costing £10 and available from Joyce on 01543 579755 or 07773 398492.

Works at canalside continue

A WORK party meets in Rugeley tomorrow (Friday) to continue its regular canalside maintenance work.

Work is being carried out by volunteers at Brindley Bank, Rugeley, organised by the Inland Waterways Association.

The work will include the rebuilding of a wall at the far end of the aqueduct using reclaimed bricks and lime mortar.

Boots

Work should also be completed on the footpath at the bottom of the steps, with continued mowing and strimming practice, ground levelling and litter picking.

All equipment provided, but heavy duty boots will be required.

Work takes place between 10am and 4pm. Anyone wishing to take part should meet the bottom of the steps by the aqueduct, off Wolseley Road.

Tea, coffee and biscuits will be provided.

Further information from Margaret Beardsmore on 07581 794111 or email margaret.beardsmore@waterways.org.uk

Girl, 14, is hit by a car

A 14-YEAR-old girl was taken to hospital after she was knocked down on a busy road which was shut by emergency services.

The teenager, a pupil at Cannock Chase High School, was taken to Birmingham Children's Hospital with minor injuries after the accident involving a blue Vauxhall Astra in Pye Green Road, Cannock, on Tuesday, October 8, at around 3.30pm.

Police officers and paramedics attended and the road was closed off while the scene was examined.

Readings take place at church

ONE-to-one readings are on offer at Heath Hayes Spiritual Church next weekend.

Half-an-hour readings take place at the Cabin, Hednesford Road, from 10am to noon and from 1-4pm on Saturday, October 26. Cost is £12.

To book, call Joyce on 01543 579755 or 07773 398492.

Talent contest winner could earn £300

TALENTED entertainers are being urged to audition for a contest that could win them £300 and a day in a recording studio.

The talent competition, being run at Churchill Victoria Working Men's Club in Hednesford, will see entrants take part in a 12-week set of auditions.

Five finalists will go head-to-head at the club on December 20.

The overall winner of Churchill Vic Has Got Talent will be awarded a prize of £300 and a day recording onto a CD they can take away with them at Dovecote Studio in Essington with producer Eddie Thomas.

Organiser Jared Molineux, aged 23, says he set up the competition in a bid to showcase local talent.

"The auditions are open to everyone and people of all ages can enter," said Hednesford Mr Molineux, otherwise known as DJ Minxie.

Fantastic

"I came up with the idea because I work at the club and I'm an entertainer myself, doing mainly discos and weddings. I know there's a lot of local talent around and a lot of great bands in the area so this is a fantastic opportunity.

"This competition gives local talent a chance because most people can't afford to do days at recording studios."

Auditions began on September 27 and run for nine weeks in all, followed by semi-finals and a final.

Anyone wishing to take part can just turn up on the night, for an 8pm start.

Call Mr Molineux on 07968 153082 for more details.

Parents raise safety fears over walk to school route

PARENTS are appealing for their children to receive free school transport, claiming a designated walking route is unsafe.

They want to be made exempt from rules stating parents have to make their own travel arrangements if they live within three miles of their child's school.

Around 15 families living on Broad Lane, Essington whose children attend Cheslyn Hay Sport & Community High, are affected.

They claim the walking route, which follows Long Lane, New Landwood Lane and Strawberry Lane, is dangerous.

Father-of-two Jon Lawton, aged 44, has written to Staffordshire County Council on behalf of the families, appealing for the route to be reassessed with the ultimate aim of getting school travel costs scrapped.

Lighting

He said: "We parents feel that the 'Safe Route to School' is anything but."

"There are no footpaths and the verges are unkempt or non-existent, meaning children are forced to walk with the traffic flow."

"If there are two cars coming and one doesn't give way, there is nothing you can do. Furthermore, there is no street lighting and it is a national speed limit of 60 mph."

Mr Lawton, whose 11-year-old son James attends the Cheslyn Hay school, said the alternative of paying for school bus fares was not an option for some families.

He said: "It costs about £44 per child per month. It is a lot of money."

"If you are a single parent and you have to take your kids to school and back every day it restricts the hours you can work."

"We are hoping the route will be reassessed as soon as possible and that common sense will prevail."

Ben Adams, Staffordshire County Council's cabinet member for learning and skills, said the council would re-examine the route and listen to parents' concerns.

Parents held a meeting to discuss the matter, where they were supported by county councillor Mike Lawrence and district councillor David Clift, the chairman of Essington parish council.

Councillor Clift said: "The route is quite dangerous in one part, with a national speed limit."

"They haven't got a footpath and the roads are quite narrow with sharp bends."

Stage gear up for sale

STAGING no longer needed by a Cannock-based group is being offered for sale to schools, drama groups or churches. Chase Choral Society no longer has use for the equipment, which has been used a couple of times and is in excellent condition. It comes complete with its own trolley for easy transportation. Any reasonable offer will be accepted. Full documentation and pictures of this system can be obtained from the choir secretary on 01543 270690 or email at smallsthhouse@talktalk.net

Teeing off for funds

GOLFERS teed off to raise hundreds of pounds to help a charity which runs an adventure playground for youngsters with special needs.

Cannock Park Golf Club held a charity golf day where members helped to raise £520 for Special Needs Adventure Playground (Snap), in Pye Green Road, Cannock.

Grandfather-of-four Colin Page, of Cheslyn Hay, chose to raise funds for the charity after being appointed captain of the golf club, in Stafford Road.

Retired engineer Mr Page, aged 71, a golf club member for 15 years, said: "We held a captain's charity day in September where members played golf and made donations."

"We raise money for different charities each year."

"They were delighted with the donation and I want to congratulate members for their efforts."

The adventure play equipment provided by SNAP, which launched in 2003, includes an aerial runway, cycle track with specially adapted bikes, sand pit, indoors soft play area, craft room and a multi-sensory room.

THIS was the week when the authorities announced that if you arrange an abortion because the unborn baby happens to be a little girl, you will not get into trouble but if you make the little girls sit behind the boys in a Muslim school, you will get into serious trouble. Proud to be British?

PROBLEM? What problem? The ruling classes will not be in the least worried by this week's report by the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) showing England has some of the worst literacy and numeracy rates in the developed world. Rich people know it doesn't apply to their kids who can still get a fine education from as little as £10,000 a year in private schools. It's the state schools, bedevilled by indiscipline, lack of leadership and the chronic dumbing-down of exams, that have allowed reading, writing and arithmetic to slide off the list of priorities. The same report tells us that Britain has the worst levels of social mobility in the Western world. The chances of a working-class kid making it into a top job are worse today than they were 50 years ago.

THE chief operating officer of Nissan, Toshiyuki Shiga, warned this week that it is "very important" that Britain remains part of the European Union. Sound familiar? In October 2002 Nissan issued another stern warning, that its huge UK operation could be endangered if Britain didn't adopt the euro. Just because they're big, it doesn't always mean they're right.

WHY is car insurance so expensive? A reader tells me his daughter's new car suffered a tiny, glancing blow in a car park. The main dealer, sensing an insurance claim, quoted £600 for the repair and wanted to take the vehicle away for five days. A local bodyshop fixed it in a single day, for £72.

ANNIE Lennox condemns the "overtly sexualised" performances of some pop singers. Hang on. Would this be the same Annie Lennox who shocked us back in the 1980s by regularly forgetting to wear a shirt? Looks like a case of the bra calling the thong black.

THERE is an old belief that prostitutes do not pay income tax, on the grounds that the State would not dirty its hands by taking immoral earnings. This turns out to be an urban myth. Southwark Crown Court this week ordered a former "high-class escort" to pay £175,000 in unpaid tax and costs. At one stage she was earning £1,000 a night. Her excuse was that she was paying her way through university. BEd, presumably.

WHERE do they get the audiences for Any Questions (Radio 4)? The latest, from the solid, hard-headed Yorkshire town of Ilkley, considered making the under-25s report for training in exchange for the dole. So did the good folk of Ilkley want the nation's youth to spend their days festering away on sofas, or to do summat positive for their money? Astonishingly, the audience voted overwhelmingly for the fester-option. I simply do not believe my fellow Tykes would vote as this audience voted. Maybe they had been bussed in from Lancashire.

A FRIEND had a scary encounter with a whole bunch of cyclists who were out on an evening ride, which involved flashing lamps on bikes, plus helmet-bulbs and reflective hi-viz jackets. He says this dangerous, dazzling, slow-moving mass of coloured lights looked like something out of Close Encounters of the Third Kind, but without the intelligence.

Staff go commando for charity challenge

STAFF from a Cannock company threw their hats into the ring for a Commando challenge to raise charity funds.

Electrical distribution company Ide Systems, took part in the 10k endurance run at the Royal Marines training area in Exeter. The course is one of the commando tests a Royal Marine has to pass to achieve his green beret.

The annual event is held annual to raise money for the Royal Marines Charitable Trust Fund and the Devon Air Ambulance and this year raised towards £200,000 for the two charities. The Ide team, made up of 10 employees and friends and families, raised £1,300.20. They were: Matt Collins, Gareth Griffith, Stuart Barnett, Dave Gay, Steve Emery, Kim Brill, Lance Brill, Adrian Penfield, Andy Collins and Colin Smout.

"One of the team, the company's foreman is a former Royal Marine who served in Iraq so as a company we provide the power and support for the event as we feel this is a great cause," said a spokesman for the group.

Hospital budget to be hit by hefty court fine

by Rob Gollledge

THE trust that runs Stafford Hospital will not be able to cover the cost of a potentially hefty court fine over the death of a patient through its own insurance.

Instead Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust - which has made losses of almost £15 million in the past year alone - will have to find the money from its own budget.

The trust pleaded guilty at Stafford Magistrates' Court last week to failing to ensure the safety of a patient.

Administrators appointed by the trust have already said Stafford Hospital is financially and clinically unsustainable. Now the trust will have to cover the cost of a fine through its own funds. Any legal costs they need to pay could take money away from treating patients, the court heard.

A senior judge now has the power to impose an unlimited fine on the trust after magistrates decided their powers of imposing a £20,000 penalty were insufficient.

Seismic

Gillian Astbury, from Hednesford, lapsed into a fatal diabetic coma while being treated at Stafford Hospital in April 2007. She was not given any insulin.

Trust spokesman Claire Hall said: "The insurance won't cover the fine. It'll be coming out of our own funds."

The prosecution, more than six years after tragic Ms Astbury died amid 'serious and seismic' failings, has offered 'little by the way of justice', said her full-time carer Ron Street.

The prosecution is the first criminal action to be taken after two public inquiries exposed cases of appalling care at the hospital in Weston Road.

Mr Street, who was also a close friend to the 66-year-old diabetic, said after the case his 'overwhelming concern' was that bosses who ran Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust had never been held to account for Mrs Astbury's death.

Ms Astbury died after she was not given insulin while an in-patient at the hospital. She was being treated for a broken arm and pelvis after suffering a fall at Cannock Hospital. Poor management meant there were 'inadequate' handovers between nurses and that there was 'insufficient' record keeping, Stafford magistrates heard.

Mr Street, 79, said: "This belated Health & Safety Executive prosecution of the Mid Staffs NHS Trust affords a small measure of justice to Gillian."

"On Gill's behalf, I am grateful but my personal gratitude is soured by the fact the responsibility to further investigate Gillian's death under terms of the Health & Safety at Work Act was passed to the HSE in January 2010, from the Crown Prosecution Service. HSE found, in my opinion, the spurious reason of the Francis Public Inquiry to delay commencing investigations until April of this year.

Gillian Astbury, who was denied insulin

Justice

He added he was less concerned with the level of the fine than that senior members of the trust board, had yet to be called to account.

"The acknowledgement of guilt by the trust does little by way of justice," said Mr Street.

Prosecuting for the Health & Safety Executive,

Mr Bernard Thorogood, said management failings were to blame for Ms Astbury's death.

He said: "Gillian Astbury came into hospital for care and as a direct result of these failures she died."

"This is the only criminal case to have been brought in connection with the problems which everybody nationally knows about at the trust."

Maggie Oldham, chief executive at the trust, said: "Our thoughts remain with the family and friends of Gillian Astbury and we apologise for the dreadful care Ms Astbury received at Stafford Hospital in April 2007."

Trust HQ in holiday wildlife sessions

YOUNGSTERS can discover the delights of the natural world at Staffordshire Wildlife Trust's HQ during the half-term holiday.

The conservation charity is running a Wildlife programme for eight-to-13 year-olds on October 28 and 29 and on November 1 from the Wolseley Centre.

Sessions run from 10am to 3pm and will provide a variety of outdoor activities including pond-dipping, mini-beast hunts and assault courses. They cost £9 per day or £21 for all three.

Lynsey Jenkins, education officer at Staffordshire Wildlife Trust said: "These sessions offer a wide range of activities for kids and prove to be very popular so it's best to book places early."

Family sessions, for four-to-seven year-olds are also being run on Wednesday October 30 from 10am to noon at a cost of £2.50.

Youngsters should wear waterproofs and outdoor shoes and those attending sessions for the eight-to-13-year-olds should also bring a packed lunch.

To book a place, or for more information, call the Trust on 01889 880100.

Penalty for dog owner

A CHASE Terrace dog owner has been fined by magistrates after failing to clean up after his pet.

Stuart Evans, aged 63, of New Street, Chase Terrace, pleaded guilty at Stafford Magistrates Court to failing to remove dog mess and to refusing to give his name and address.

Officers from Lichfield District Council saw Mr Evans failing to remove the mess while walking his dog at Gentleshaw Common last March.

He was fined £230, ordered to pay costs of £300 and a victim surcharge of £20.

Bus services for festive depot staff are backed

TWO new bus services to Rugeley's Amazon warehouse have been welcomed by a councillor.

Arriva Midlands has introduced services A2 and A3 to ferry hundreds of seasonal workers to and from the distribution centre in Wheelhouse Lane.

The online retailer announced last month that it was creating 1,500 posts in the town in the run up to Christmas.

Shift

Cannock Council's economic development chief Gordon Alcott said: "These bus services have been arranged to meet the shift patterns at the Rugeley site. "It ensures that anyone in the local area without transport has the opportunity of getting employment."

"I commend the recruitment agencies, Amazon and Arriva for working together and finding a solution to help with unemployment in the area."

Buses will pick up in Wolverhampton, Cannock, Hednesford, Walsall, Bloxwich and Rugeley.

Arrest over robbery bid

A MAN has been arrested in connection with an attempted robbery at a supermarket.

Police were called to Nisa, in Cannock Road, Chads Moor at around 7.40pm on Sunday after an offender entered the store and demanded cash.

He attempted to open the till but failed and left empty handed.

Police cordoned off the shop until around 8.45pm while forensic examinations were carried out.

A 26-year-old man was arrested in the Walsall area and remains in custody.

Anyone with information should call Staffordshire Police on 101.

Nine-mile walk

CHASE & District Group Ramblers partake in a strenuous nine-mile walk at Church Stretton including Caer Caradoc and Ragleth Hill this weekend. Departure time on Sunday (October 20) is 8.30am from Hednesford rail station car park, Anglesey Street.

Officers lend support to fund for retired police dogs

PCs Aird, Bloor and Birkin at the last fundraiser

A FUND has been set up to support the ongoing care and medical treatment of retired Staffordshire Police dogs.

It will run alongside the Retired West Midlands Police Dog Benevolent Fund with regular fundraising events.

Supporters can follow the Facebook page 'Retired Staffordshire Police Dog Fund' to receive updates on events and see photographs of some of the dogs supported.

Joanne Waldron, a fund administrator, said: "The fund will hopefully help provide some financial relief to those caring for the dogs in their later years and will allow these hard working dogs to enjoy a long and happy retirement."

"Having been personally involved in caring for a retired police dog I know there can often be unexpected vets bills for illnesses and injuries incurred throughout their working lives."

She said the first event proved really successful, with more than £500 being raised. "We had a fun boat race at Shugborough outdoor centre on October 6 and received some great support from local companies."

"A team of three dog handlers, Pcs Karen Bloor, Darren Aird and Rich Birkin took part in the race against Donnachie and Townley vets of Rugeley. Unfortunately the dog handlers lost and got a soaking when they capsized twice!"

Inspector Chris Dawson, of Staffordshire Police's Dog Support Unit, said: "This charity is really worthwhile and will be of huge benefit to our retired dogs and those who care for them."

"The dogs give so much to the public throughout their working lives so it will be nice for their supporters to be able to assist with their care in retirement."

Hero Pc who tackled knife attacker receives honour

A POLICE officer who tackled a knife-wielding attacker before wrestling him to the ground has been honoured.

Pc Kate Holding, from Cannock, had responded to a call about a fight at a house in Rugeley in May. She was as given the High Sheriff's Millennium Vase at the Staffordshire Police Annual Awards ceremony.

Officers heard how Pc Holding kicked a man's fist so he dropped a knife, which she then grabbed and threw clear. She wrestled him into handcuffs and dragged him outside to the front of the house where her colleague restrained him fully.

Pc Holding went back inside to help the injured attack victim out of the house and attempted to stem the blood loss with a towel. She was joined by two colleagues who tried to stem the bleeding further. The three police officers were joined by an ambulance crew and all gave first aid.

They continued to treat the patient until an air ambulance arrived.

Award judges, led by Chief Constable Mike Cunningham, said in their citation: "Kate's actions during the initial knife attack saved the victim from further injury and possible death."

Courage

Special constables from Cannock were also honoured for their success in significantly reducing antisocial behaviour in the district.

The team, led by Acting Specials Sergeant Kevin Elsey, undertook its own research into the constant problems plaguing the community and were presented with the Nick Tempest trophy.

The Nick Tempest Award is named after the late Deputy Chief Officer of Special Constabulary in Staffordshire who died suddenly in 2000.

Mr Cunningham said: "Officers and staff are involved in acts of courage or exceptional work in their communities on a daily basis."

Meanwhile, a Burntwood man who faithfully cleans police cars week in and week out has become the first winner of the PCC Award for Volunteer of the Year.

Ben Wilson, aged 26, plays a vital role in 'keeping the show on the road' for officers in Lichfield Local Policing Team and his work was recognised at the ceremony on Tuesday, October 8.

He was presented with the Police and Crime Commissioner's inaugural Volunteer of the Year award by Deputy PCC Sue Arnold.

Ben became a vehicle support volunteer in June 2012 and took ownership of keeping the patrol cars clean and tidy.

A citation said: "Ben has reported for duty every Thursday regardless of the weather, and earns the respect of his colleagues for consistently maintaining the fleet."

ADVOCATES of mother-and-child parking spaces at supermarkets say it is a matter of safety rather than convenience, which is fair enough. After all, it can't be conducive to child safety making young children walk half-way across a busy car park.

What I don't understand is, given this understandable concern for safety, why so many of the parents who use these spaces find it necessary to drive the wrong way down a one-way system to access them.

Every Saturday I see a steady stream of inconsiderate young mothers, usually in multi-seater people carriers or off-roaders, defiantly driving contrary to the traffic flow at my local supermarket, Tesco at Burnt Tree.

Possession of a child seat and a 'baby on board' sticker does not exempt you from the rules of the road, you know.

ACCORDING to media reports, professional celeb and one-time footballer David Beckham now hopes to split his time between Britain and Los Angeles.

"They want the California sunshine for the kids but the education system of the UK - so they're getting the best of both worlds," said one authoritative source.

The education system of the UK? I wonder which inner-city comprehensive the Beckham offspring will be attending.

SO THE Government is looking at raising the minimum age for driving from 17 to 18, and then placing them under a night-time curfew until they are at least 19. Obviously looking for the youth vote then.

But will it really make any difference? We all know boy racers are a menace to society, but surely the safety of young drivers is less about whether they have celebrated their 18th birthday, and more about their general maturity.

The answer is probably a few more questions on the driving test, I dunno, such as 'have you ever read Loaded magazine?', 'has your car got after-market speakers fitted?' or 'have you ever spent an evening eating takeaways in a car park?' If the answer is 'yes' to any of the above, then it should be a straight fail.

Better still, why not impose new rules on the type of car that young people can drive. Volvo estate, beige Austin Maestro, probably means little threat to the peace and safety of the general public. Rusty old Citroen Saxo with blacked-out windows, boom box and exhaust like a sewer pipe? Five-year driving ban.

Call it possession of an offensive vehicle.

I was a boy among men, says veteran

After his Arnhem pilgrimage old soldier John Baker shares his horrors of war with LOUISE JEW

IT WAS a 'bridge too far' in the Second World War - and the Battle of Arnhem landed young parachutist John Baker in deadly danger, when he was taken prisoner of war.

Now - as he celebrates his 90th birthday - he has retold how he and 12 comrades were forced to give themselves up to the Germans as houses literally blew up around them during their trek to reinforce troops battling to take the nearby bridge.

He celebrated his 21st birthday in Stalag 12A, in transit to his eventual home for more than seven months - Stalag 11B near Hanover, where he was forced to put in long days of hard labour, fuelled by near-starvation rations.

Wreath

John, now of Sedgely, has just returned from a moving pilgrimage back to Arnhem.

He laid a wreath to mark the 69th anniversary of the famous battle.

And, as year by year fewer and fewer of the brave veterans who survived Arnhem remain, he fully intends to be there for the 'big one' - the 70th anniversary commemoration next year.

John, a great-grandfather, who has lived in Ettymore Road West since 1949, was just 17 when he lied to join the Army in 1940, saying he was 18.

He joined the Welsh Fusiliers but later a call came round for volunteers for the airborne forces.

The veteran with his medals, just back from an emotional pilgrimage to Holland

He was tempted by the prospect of an extra two shillings a day - at the time he was earning only 14 shillings a week, so it would double his wage - and a red beret that all the girls fell for.

So off he went, in 1942, to join the 1st Airborne Division and saw active service in the North Africa campaign, followed by Sicily and Italy.

"North Africa was a long campaign - the paratroopers were supposed to be in and out but we were used as infantry," said

John. "But Arnhem was a nasty little battle."

He wasn't wrong - in late September 1944, John and the rest of his division in the British Airborne forces landed outside Arnhem in Holland for Operation Market Garden.

A number of other bridges had been taken - but Arnhem proved the bridge too far, of film fame.

Soon the forces were surrounded and almost 2,000 were killed, with many more injured and taken prisoner. John said: "We landed about eight miles from the bridge and were among 10,000 - two thirds of us parachutists and a third in gliders."

"We got within a quarter of a mile before we hit the heavy stuff."

"Two Panzer divisions were refitting just outside Arnhem, which threw us. They'd got heavy tanks and flame throwers, against our rifles and machine guns. We'd taken evasive action but they were literally blowing houses down around us."

"Our officer decided the only way out was to surrender, somewhere near the Elizabeth Hospital in West Arnhem."

"The officer put his hands in the air and we put ours behind our heads."

Meagre

In Germany he was set to hard labour clearing up bomb damage and helping to lay railway lines, sometimes marching 10km to get to the job and eating meagre rations.

He returned to Bulford camp, near Salisbury, where he met his wife Rosalin.

The couple, who had three daughters, celebrated 65 years of marriage but Rosalin died last year, aged 89.

After the war John became a grinding machine operator at Contractor Switchgear in Wolverhampton, later working at a factory in Tipton and then becoming a member of the security staff at John Thompson's boiler makers in Etingshall.

John, who celebrated his 90th birthday with a family party at The Lodge in Wellington Road, Dudley, on Saturday said: "I was young compared to most - a boy among men."

"And we're dwindling very much, with fewer at the pilgrimages every year - but I hope to be fit enough to go again next year," he added.

THROUGH THE YEARS

1983...

THE death knell was sounded for West Midlands County Council, just nine years after it had been formed. It was announced that the authority, which covered Birmingham, Dudley, Walsall, Wolverhampton, Coventry, Solihull and the newly-formed borough of Sandwell, was to be disbanded in 1985, with most of its powers being devolved to the main towns and cities.

The seven district councils would continue to work in partnership for policing, public transport, and fire services though.

AN ACTION group protesting against the men convicted of murdering Wordsley paper boy Carl Bridgewater tried to disrupt racing at Warwick. But the bid failed, as the protesters sprayed graffiti and poured oil onto the wrong course.

1993.....

NELSON Mandela arrived in Birmingham to a rapturous welcome, and described the city as his 'home sweet home'. He was given a standing ovation when he spoke at a concert in his honour at Symphony Hall.

ELEVEN England fans were charged after 195 were held in a night of violence in Amsterdam ahead of a World Cup qualifier against Holland. The 11 fans faced allegations of violence.

WHY did the elephant cross the road? To open a new shop. Miss Sandra took a walk across Powke Lane in Cradley Heath to open the new Powell Office Equipment store. The elephant came from Chipperfields Circus which was across the road 2003...

THOUSANDS of homes and businesses received no mail after postal workers walked out for the second time in a month. More than 120 workers walked out of Wolverhampton's Sun Street depot after anonymous racist comments were posted on the staff notice board.

AMBULANCE drivers in the West Midlands were being issued with a staggering 3,000 speeding tickets every year after being caught by roadside cameras.

A BUSINESS leader called for a football-style loan transfer system to stop skilled workers leaving the area. Dudley divisional director of the Black Country Chamber of Commerce, George Munro, said a similar scheme had been launched in the north-east

Cost-cutting blamed as 70 college staff lose jobs

Volunteer, 90, rewarded

Volunteer Jack Neville, aged 90, receives an award from Age UK South Staffs chief exec Nick Maslen at Littleton Green primary school

A 90-YEAR-old volunteer has been honoured for giving up his time to help out at a school under a charity-run scheme.

Jack Neville, of Chadsmoor, was presented with a certificate by Nick Maslen, chief executive of Age UK South Staffordshire and Nigel Barrett, the community services manager for the charity, at Littleton Green Community School in Huntington. Mr Neville, the charity's oldest active male volunteer, was also given tickets to see War Horse at the Birmingham Hippodrome.

Mr Neville began volunteering at the age of 86 after losing his wife and has been a regular visitor to the school. He volunteers for Children Matter, a project provided by Age UK South Staffordshire's intergenerational service.

Anyone interested can call 01785 788484.

MORE than 70 jobs have been axed at South Staffordshire College as part of wider cost-cutting measures.

Some of the job losses were compulsory redundancies.

Bosses said making the cuts was a 'difficult' decision but they said the move had to be made in light of government funding cuts. Out of the 1,000-strong workforce, none of the posts lost was teaching staff.

Spokesman Suzanne Thurlow said: "It was difficult for the college to have to confirm just over 70 posts as redundant during the summer. Everyone's job matters."

"The fact that none of our losses were from teaching staff will be of great reassurance to our learners and the reduction of posts was from within our management and support infrastructure."

Revamp

"As difficult as it is having to make any redundancies, the majority - 70 per cent - was achieved through voluntary redundancy."

The college has campuses in Cannock, Lichfield, Penkridge and Tamworth. A £6 million revamp of the Cannock site is currently under way.

Around 20,000 students, including part-time and adult learners, attend the college each year.

Mrs Thurlow said despite wider government cuts to colleges, South Staffordshire had 'progressed' since it was founded in 2009 and she added the college was 'financially stable, well-run and successful'.

It works – so why make any changes?

RE: The proposed reduction of road lanes at Horse Fair, Rugeley. We have lived in Rugeley since 1970 and as a frequent driver and occasional pedestrian using Globe Island, I am concerned about the proposed plan to alter the number of road lanes on Horse Fair.

Sandy Lane and Hednesford Road would be clogged up with traffic. With Horse Fair's dual carriageway we stand some chance of getting into the system travelling from that side of Rugeley.

As a dual carriageway there are four sensible lanes travelling through the town which must be more efficient than two.

The pavements for pedestrians are already generously wide or railed and sensible mid-stream islands are provided. Why disturb what works and make alterations that might cause chaos?

Privatisation proves a licence for greed

OVER the past six years energy bills have risen by 40 per cent. Many households are now living in fuel poverty, and are having to make the impossible choice of heating or eating.

However, despite these huge increases and the inevitability of more to come, it did not deter the former energy boss of Centrica grabbing between £13m and £15m in pay, shares and pension when he left the company.

The 'free market' in energy, and the Tories' misleading perception that big business and competition would result in benefiting the customer has ended in failure, and a cartel of six large avaricious companies. The reality of Miliband's threat not to nationalise or reduce energy prices, but merely limit them at their extortionate levels for 20 months has resulted in all six of them threatening to pull the plug on Britain's energy supplies, and jeopardise the livelihoods of 600,000 workers in the industry.

The vast majority of people in the UK are aware that privatisation has proven to be a licence for greed. Only about a week ago YouGov found that 80 per cent of people now realise that the large energy giants 'maximise their profits at the expense of consumers'.

The energy market has failed the public and the investment needs of this country. They should be renationalised and not be allowed to run with the same regime of anti-worker mismanagement as they did before Thatcher's disastrous privatisation programme.

A nationalised energy industry should be managed democratically with representatives of workers through their unions – together with a government that supports 'hard working people' bringing lower prices to all, instead of allowing the funnelling of vast profits, dividends and payouts to a few bosses and big shareholders.

No reason for badger slaughter

THE results just released on the total number of badgers killed in the recent trials show that this cull is indeed political and not scientific.

Owen Paterson has said "the badgers have moved the goalposts". By this we take it he means they wouldn't just stand still to be shot.

Paterson, Defra and the NFU are always massaging the figures to fit in with the slaughter.

We have too few badgers killed, while culling will go on for longer than recommended or carried out in the nine-year long Randomised Badger Culling Trial which concluded that killing badgers would make no meaningful difference to the spread of bTB in cattle.

There is no logic for this meaningless slaughter and Paterson is in danger of revealing his true reason for killing badgers – quite simply that he wants to remove their protected status.

Ivy House remains of historical importance

I AM backing residents to keep Ivy House and there is now a dash to make sure listed building status is granted. This would mean that Ivy House would be retained and only refurbished internally.

The Tory-led County Council has acted in an underhand way and washed their hands of Ivy House by selling it without listening to residents' views. They are more interested in asset stripping than the views of Cannock residents.

Ivy House should not be demolished. It is a 19th century building and was formerly a Victorian Workhouse and then maternity hospital, where many local residents and their families were born.

Ivy House is of historical importance to Cannock. There are very few buildings of such historic interest remaining in Cannock and the site should be retained for future generations. I feel it is important that residents who originally signed a 1,000-strong petition are supported and backed in their campaign. The property developer should not be allowed to bulldoze his demolition through and it is important that residents continue to voice their opposition.

This is a fight to preserve the historical past of Cannock.

Politician's promotion praised

HAVING never been one to maintain a particular allegiance to any one given political party, I would nevertheless like to congratulate Gavin Williamson, who in my experience is a very hard-working and genuine constituency politician who contributes a lot of time and effort to the people of South Staffs. The announcement regarding his recent promotion is, I feel, justifiable recognition of his contribution since having taken office.

Heritage lost claim over demolition of Ivy House

CAMPAIGNERS say Cannock's heritage will be 'swallowed up' if one of its most historic buildings is demolished.

Following fresh plans to pull down the former Ivy Hospital and workhouse, residents are applying for it to be granted listed status to prevent it from being reduced to rubble.

The protesters say the Wolverhampton Road property should be recognised as a building of historical significance.

Campaigner Margaret Price said: "Instead of knocking it down they should be putting a blue plaque on it."

"There are buildings in and around this area that are listed but they aren't even as old and don't look half as nice. The value to the community of this building just can't be stressed enough. It's 143 years old."

Dentist

"If this was in Lichfield or somewhere like Bath they would never even be considered. Cannock's heritage will be swallowed up."

She said the campaigners would prefer the building to remain intact and house a solicitors firm, an estate agent or even a dentist. Ivy House was formerly a Victorian workhouse and then a maternity hospital.

The building is being earmarked for development under new proposals by Wrekin Housing Trust. The former hospital could make way for 12 affordable homes and four apartments.

Public meetings are being held at St Stephen's Church in Bideford Way, Cannock this week to discuss the proposals.

NEWSExtension of payment scheme backed by MP

MP Aidan Burley has welcomed the Government's decision to extend the Equitable Life Payment Scheme to 2015, and has called on his constituents to see if they are eligible.

The Government set up a compensation scheme in 2011 that has seen policyholders already receive £734 million.

It is now extending the scheme for Equitable Life policy holders to claim money they may be due after the insurance company came close to collapse in 2000. The scheme had previously been due to close in April 2014.

Mr Burley said: "I fully appreciate that this saga has been immensely distressing for a number of my constituents, and while I welcome the strong progress made so far, it is vital that all of those people eligible receive payments. Extending the scheme to 2015 will help to maximise the number of people who receive their payment from ELPS."

Big in China as business sees growth in reputation

A CANNOCK company has welcomed a delegation from China, where it is set for further growth.

Transmission remanufacturing experts ATP Industries Group is building up a strong reputation in the country and has an operation there, employing 46 workers repairing transmissions.

It will benefit from a boom in remanufacturing once the Government there begins to issue licences to enable the work to be done.

The Cannock Wood-based business welcomed its latest group of visitors from China last week.

The 24 were from Cadillac dealers who wanted to take a look at an existing professional remanufacturing operation.

In June a delegation of 30 potential remanufacturers from China had also visited ATP to find out about its work.

Recognised

"The licences will mean that our facility in Guangzhou, where we have been for 17 years, will be able to do remanufacturing work for original equipment manufacturers in China and we are already talking to a number of them."

"There is huge potential for growth for us in China. ATP is now recognised all over the country."

ATP moved to its present home at Cannock Wood Industrial Estate because its previous base in Hednesford was needed for the regeneration of the town centre.

Mr Smart said it has since invested £6 million in bringing the former brick factory up to standard including renovation work and creating a purpose-built facility. The 18-acre site also has space for ATP to expand.

"We have now been in full operation here for two years," said Mr Smart. It invested a further

Alan Smart with ATP's award as 2013 Remanufacturer of the Year

£500,000 this year to carry out work on double clutch transmissions which a major European manufacturer started production of in May.

The company has also in the last few months won new contracts from both Land Rover and Jaguar and continues to work closely with Ford.

ATP also has a United States site in Ann Arbor, Michigan, which it bought five years ago, where it employs eight in making test equipment.

ATP has grown from being a car repair business started in a pre-fab house between Heath Hayes and Wimblebury in 1965 to a turnover of £10 million a year and in June won the prestigious Remanufacturer of the Year award at the world's largest remanufacturing exhibition, ReMaTec 2013 in Amsterdam.

The company now employs 135 at Cannock Wood and is also investing in its staff. It has taken on three more apprentices this year and three on the shopfloor.

X Factor McElderry in Prince of Wales date

FORMER X Factor winner Joe McElderry will be performing in Cannock next year. The 22-year-old is setting off on his Set Your Soul Alive tour in March and will stop off at the Prince of Wales Theatre in the town on June 5.

McElderry won the sixth series in 2009 and reached number two in the charts with his debut single The Climb. It was kept off the coveted Christmas Number One spot by Rage Against The Machine's Killing in the Name Of.

He was also crowned the winner of the second series of ITV's Popstar to Operastar in 2011 and has now released four albums. Tickets for the Prince of Wales concert are priced at £19.50, with concessions at £18.50 and children £15. Call the Church Street venue's box office on 01543 578762 or visit boxoffice.wlct.org

CCTV footage released in bid to catch knife raider

Jessica's Fresh Foods, where the raid took place in July

The distinctive helmet worn by the offender

CCTV image released by police of the suspect

POLICE have released a CCTV image of an armed robber who fled the scene of a bungled raid after leaving two eyewitnesses hurt.

The incident happened at a Cannock greengrocers in broad daylight on July 26.

Officers investigating the terrifying hold up at Jessica's Fresh Foods in Market Street believe the man pictured robbed Signal Cards and Balloons in a neighbouring village just 15 minutes later.

They are appealing for help from the public in their hunt for the knife-wielding suspect. He had injured two customers at Jessica's in the raid, which took place at around 2.30pm.

A 34-year-old customer suffered injuries to his arms and was taken to Stafford Hospital, while a female shopper was treated for minor injuries at the scene.

Police said the raider fled empty-handed after trying to take money from the tills.

The same man is also believed to have robbed Signal Cards and Balloons in Station Street, Cheslyn Hay around a quarter of an hour later on the same day.

Cash was stolen from the store and a member of staff had her handbag taken. It contained cash and bank cards. The raider escaped on a Suzuki motorbike.

Chameleon

The man is described as white, slim, around 5ft 5ins tall, with a tanned complexion.

He was wearing a blue two-tone jacket that had the words 'Goodride' across the shoulders and a Laser helmet with a chameleon on each side.

Police have also released an image of the helmet.

Anyone with information is asked to contact Staffordshire Police on 101 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

Salon staff getting in pink for charity

Cutting It staff who will be holding breast cancer awareness days. Back, from left, Jane Heggie and Michelle Workman. Front, Jess Rowland and Evie Marshall.

HAIR salon staff are in the pink this month to help raise awareness and money for breast cancer. Michelle Workman, aged 31, owner of Cutting It in Queen's Square, Cannock, is marking Breast Cancer Awareness Month and has decked the shop out with pink balloons and bras. Customers enjoyed handmade cakes and had their hair blow-dried at the weekend.

Mrs Workman said: "We decided we wanted to do something special to raise money for such a worthy cause."

"Everybody knows someone who has battled breast cancer so any help and support that we can give will go a long way towards helping them. Last year the salon raised £400 for breast cancer care through cake sales."

Mrs Workman added: "If we could raise as much as we did then, that would be fantastic."

Numbers are up at district leisure venues

VISITOR numbers at leisure centres in the Cannock Chase district are rocketing following a refurbishment programme.

Chase Leisure Centre recorded 102,978 visits in the first quarter of 2013-14 – up 30 per cent on the same period in 2011 when the site was last fully open.

In 2012-13, while the centre was being redeveloped, there were 39,895 visits.

Attendances at Rugeley Leisure Centre also increased for the first three months of the financial year, from 60,350 to 69,860. People took advantage of the improved gym facilities, with 24,406 visits for the quarter compared to 17,726 in 2012-13.

Boosted

Cannock Park Golf Course was also boosted by the hot summer weather, with 6,938 people using the site compared with 4,894 in the same period in 2012.

A report to Cannock Chase Council by the Wigan Leisure & Culture Trust, which runs the sites, says: "The dry weather during June has resulted in an increase in participation at the golf course which has exceeded target and resulted in a 41 per cent increase when compared with the same period during 2012-13."

by Adam Burling

The Museum of Cannock Chase suffered a drop in popularity, with the total number of visitors decreasing from 11,083 to 9,481.

However, bosses say an events programme and exhibitions will attract new people, while the permanent coal mining gallery has been updated.

Attendances at the Prince of Wales Centre dropped to 8,476 for the three-month period – down 4,679 on the same period the year before.

Theatre bosses say the drop in attendances has been caused by the Livingstone Dance School not staging any shows.

The group usually has a week of events which draws in hundreds of people.

Free aqua aerobics offer

FREE aqua aerobics is on offer in Burntwood for young women aged from 14 to 25. The offer has been made possible thanks to the Us Girls project, Lichfield District Council's Positive Futures team. The 45-minute sessions run every Wednesday from 8pm at Burntwood Leisure Centre. Us Girls is an initiative to get 30,000 young women more active, by providing them with local fitness and sport opportunities. For more information, or to book, email jenni.williams@lichfielddc.gov.uk or call 01543 308835.

Dig completed of scale model battleground site

A close-up of the archaeological dig site on Cannock Chase that has now been completed

ARCHAEOLOGISTS have completed the excavation of a unique scale model of a Belgian town.

The Messines model commemorated a famous victory in the Great War and helped to train troops for future battles.

So much unexpected detail was uncovered that the team carrying out the dig had asked for more time on the project.

Experts are now beginning the detailed photographing and recording of the model, which is the size of five tennis courts.

Staffordshire County Council and Natural England are behind the scheme on Cannock Chase.

The model was built by German Prisoners of War at the Brocton training camp in 1918 under the supervision of the New Zealand Rifle Brigade.

Police CSI-style lasers are being used to scan the site – the only surviving replica of its kind in the UK – and help create a 3D model.

Depicted

The excavation team found inches-high copies of homes, churches and trenches depicted in the Messines model. Buildings within the town are depicted in painstaking detail as ruined and bomb-damaged.

Fighting trenches protecting the western side of the town have also been found, while roads are depicted across the model using pebbles – similar to the cobbled roads throughout Belgium at this time. County council leader Philip Atkins said: "It has been incredible to see the scale and absolute detail of the Messines model and with the 100-year commemoration of the start of the Great War is a poignant reminder of those who helped change the course of history for all of us."

"The team has done an amazing job in bringing the Messines back to 'life' and will help the legacy of the men who served at Brocton camp to be remembered for generations to come."

The Battle of Messines was the first time defensive casualties outnumbered attacking losses as the Allies detonated 19 underground mines beneath German lines on the Western Front, before launching a follow up attack.

These three styles are some of the many on offer at Bonce

Want a new look? Easy, simply use your Bonce

PARTY season is just around the corner and it's time to think about your hair.

Bonce Salons are an award-winning group with two branches based in Wednesbury (Hydes Road and Darlston Road) have teamed up with the Chronicle to offer the chance for five readers to win a makeover.

The winners will not only each receive a cut and colour from the talented team, but also an array of incredible hair care and styling products to take home and maintain the look.

This prize valued at £100 is definitely not one to be missed, prep yourself for autumn and the festive season with a brand new look and colour.

Bonce Salons are an innovative group with the décor of each reflecting their creative values and buzzing atmosphere. The team of expert stylists strive to adapt fashionable catwalk looks, suit the needs and features of the everyday client, via their array of services including colour, cutting, styling and Brazilian blow-dry.

To date, Bonce Salons have competed and been finalists in a large number of competitions and awards including the prestigious Men's Hairdresser of the Year and Website/Innovation of the Year in this year's 2013 British Hairdressing and Business Awards, as well as being 2012 Marketing of the Year salon winners.

Charity

Bonce's regular involvement with local charities has evolved their status from mere creative salon to a business, determined to give back to the local community. Their recent collaboration with Midlands Air Ambulance has already raised awareness and money for the charity.

Flats plan to alleviate the pressures of bedroom tax

HOUSING bosses say converting an historic Cheslyn Hay building into flats will help tenants suffering from the financial pressures of the bedroom tax.

Glenthorne House in High Street, which has stood empty for a number of years, is being transformed into 11 one-bedroom flats in a £600,000 scheme.

South Staffordshire Housing Association (SSHA) has 489 tenants classed as under-occupying properties, with 108 tenants in Great Wyrley and Cheslyn Hay.

Priority

At a meeting of Cheslyn Hay parish council, SSHA's housing services manager Neelam Samra said the flats scheme would help those in arrears and claimed parishioners who were under-occupying homes would get priority for the properties.

Under the bedroom tax, anyone in council or social-rented housing has received a cut in their housing benefit if they have one or more spare bedrooms.

Ms Samra said helping those who are under-occupying properties to move into smaller homes would also make the larger properties they move out of available to meet housing needs.

Addressing councillors at the meeting, she said: "I'm anticipating at the end of October we will be advertising these properties."

She said the flats would only be suitable for a single person or couple to move into.

It is expected that all tenants initially moving into the flats will be applicants from Great Wyrley and Cheslyn Hay.

Thereafter, 20 per cent of allocations will be to Great Wyrley and Cheslyn Hay applicants.

Stafford-based Housing Plus expects the scheme to take 17 weeks to complete.

Roasts back on the menu

THE traditional Sunday lunch is back on the menu at a top Cannock sporting venue. Cannock Cricket & Hockey Club, at Chase Park, has joined forces with Call In The Caterers and will re-introduce the Sunday lunch from this weekend. Corporate meetings, weddings and parties will also be catered for with several jobs created. Call 01543 502424.

Businesses get the chance to network

Brad Burton, front, at the meeting with John Clapham, Carol Owen, Mark Northall, Debbie Huxton and Linda Hill. AN entrepreneur has launched a new group aimed at boosting work and contacts for Staffordshire businesses.

The group, called 4Networking, met for the first time at The Turf Lodge in Watling Street, Norton Canes. Founder Brad Burton welcomed visitors to the group's inaugural meeting. Mr Burton made his name in business after being £25,000 in debt and delivering pizzas to keep himself afloat.

The entrepreneur, from Manchester, has launched groups across the country since setting up 4Networking in 2006 and has also just brought out his new book, 'Life. Business. Just Got Easier'.

The group in Cannock will meet at the pub every two weeks on a Wednesday. The next meeting is on October 23. Around 35 local business owners attended the first event and more are being encouraged to sign up for future events.

Business owners can give presentations during the meetings and meet other like-minded people.

Carol Owen, from The Marketing Room in Cannock, is part of the new group. She said: "There was a good turnout at the first meeting."

Pupils are racing certs to inspire fellow youngsters

ASPIRING engineers from a Rugeley school have built a racing car from scratch and took part in an international competition to inspire innovation among young people.

The group from Fair Oak Academy, in Penkridge Bank Road, took part in the finals of the Greenpower electric car racing challenge at Goodwood Motor Circuit, in West Sussex.

More than 100 teams featuring pupils aged 11 to 16 have competed throughout the year in heats and the top 75 battled it out in the finals.

The 11-strong Fair Oak team ended up in 38th place after a crash took them out of the five-hour endurance race for half-an-hour.

They built a brand new car from scratch with help from businesses including Banner Batteries, GDM Heat Transfer, Waymax Van Hire & Fives.

Batteries

The pupils worked in their free time to design and build their new carbon fibre chassis based on an old racing car by improving the aerodynamics from a model the school had built previously.

They were involved in the main IET Formula 24 using the power of just three sets of car batteries.

They needed to use speedy pit stops to enable each of the minimum of five drivers in the team to take over for their stint on the track. Teams also came from the Huntville Centre for Technology, in the United States, and Politechnika Slaska in Poland.

Fair Oak's assistant principal for design Kevin Jones said he was delighted the team made it through to the finals. He said: "I am so proud of the hard work and dedication that the team has put in."

Ooops!

Another customer for ChipsAway!

Every minute, someone somewhere becomes another potential customer for Guy Eastment, Penkridge based operator for ChipsAway International, leading 'on-the-spot' automotive paint repair specialists. Think about it. Whether it's a stone thrown up from the road, the key scraping against your car door, or an out of control shopping trolley clipping your paintwork in the car park on a busy Saturday morning - and we've all been there - chips, bumps and minor scuffs are part and parcel of being a car owner.

Unsurprising then that recent research has confirmed that the majority of the 32 million cars in the UK are in need of attention to their paintwork and that most drivers would love to find a quick, cost-effective and convenient way of repairing their minor paint damage. After all, nobody wants the expense and inconvenience of booking their car into a body shop for small jobs. Industry experts also advise that keeping car paintwork up to scratch will extend the life of your vehicle and improve its value when you eventually look to sell.

"As the AA points out, it's a smart move, to get your car repaired if you have any form of minor damage to your paintwork," advises Guy Eastment, Penkridge. "Whether a scratch, scuff, chip or dent, a cosmetic repair will not only make sure your car looks good, but will seal the area of damage, making it weatherproof and prevent rust setting in.

If you leave it, the rust will eventually lead to corrosion which could ultimately result in a more extensive - and expensive - repair!"

This is exactly where Guy and ChipsAway can help. Using a unique waterborne system developed by ChipsAway Inc. in the USA, ChipsAway can offer a faster, more convenient way of repairing minor damage to automotive paintwork - and at a radically reduced cost.

Car owners no longer need to book vehicles into a body shop for days at a time to have whole panels treated simply to remove a small scratch or chip to their paintwork, Guy operates from a fully equipped vehicle - essentially, his mobile workshop - and takes his services directly to the customer, whether a member of the public or a business.

Today ChipsAway has over 300 UK operators, between them repairing some 300,000 vehicles per year.

Day out at Wightwick is enjoyed as cheque handed over

HEDNESFORD 'A' TGV

THE Barns Hotel was an excellent venue for the August luncheon club with 25 attending. The food and friendly atmosphere were thoroughly enjoyed.

The September guild meeting featured an entertaining auction of Harvest produce by Derek Higgott from Shugborough Hall as the auctioneer. Later, he answered many gardening questions from members and gave an informed talk on 'Putting plants to bed for winter'.

On September 18, the ladies enjoyed a trip to Wightwick Manor with lunch at The Mermaid and then Moseley Old Hall.

The guide was very informative. It was a long wait for the meals at The Mermaid but all enjoyed the food when it arrived.

At Moseley Old Hall, everyone was amazed at the size of the apples and pears growing in the garden. Once again the tour guide was excellent imparting many interesting facts about the 17th century farmhouse and its connection to Charles II.

Some members had a funny sensation when viewing Charles's bed. They were amazed at how such a tall man could curl up in such a small hidey hole.

Future events include the October Luncheon Club meeting at The Rag, Cannock Wood and the Federation lunch at the Terrace, Brownhills on October 24.

Natalie Wood collects the cheque from Lichfield Rotary Club members

THE club's Staffordshire Cakes and Ale Walk reached its climax on September 26 when Natalie Wood, a fundraiser from Donna Louise Children's Hospice, received a cheque for £5,500.

Natalie gave an excellent talk about the work of the hospice and in his vote of thanks Peter Sharpe expressed his admiration for its work, which proved evident on a recent visit made by four club members.

Brian Darby also kindly organised a very enjoyable visit for members and friends to the once secret Bletchley Park, which is fast becoming a world-class heritage site and education facility. Once home of the Second World War Enigma machine code breakers the park now houses a fascinating museum containing such machines as the Turing/Welshman Bombe and the world's first electronic computer Colossus.

Hearing dogs is talk topic

CHAIRMAN Val Beale opened the last meeting and welcomed members back following the August break.

She commented on the lovely weather and the fascinating visit to see the Staffordshire Hoard.

Evening walks arranged by Sandi Cope were a great success.

Val also read out a list of

members who will be receiving long term service badges.

Speakers for the evening were Phyllis and Alan Stone talking about 'Hearing dogs for Deaf people'.

Alan brought along his miniature poodle Oakley, with whom everyone fell in love. Alan has had Oakley for three years and he has been intensively trained to support Alan in his daily living. Alan and Phyllis are actively involved in the charity giving talks and fundraising.

The next meeting will be a Harvest supper of fish and chips.

EATING OUT

Revamped restaurant is still full of promise

FIRST impressions are very important for Alan Islam.

The restaurant owner believes the look of his eatery is vital to attracting new custom, and, while he has a point, one could also argue the proof of the pudding was in the eating.

Alan, aged 39, has run Eastern Memories in Bridgtown for around nine years. While it remains popular, he decided it was time for a lick of paint.

Just under a month ago, he reopened the North Street restaurant following a refurb that saw it close for a week.

It is clean and crisp and homely and the transformation has led to positive feedback from clientele old and new.

Regular

There are still 60 covers and six members of staff, but the restaurant now has more of a contemporary look. It is light and airy and the lighting adds to the ambience, while the biggest change comes in the function room, complete with more comfortable chairs and laminate flooring.

Alan said: "I do believe that first impressions count. Regular customers probably don't mind so much as they've seen the place before, but for new customers, they are attracted by what they see when they walk in."

Diners are greeted like friends by Alan, another service as vital to keeping his diners 'on side'. But the food also plays an important role in the success of the business, which has a Four-Star Rate My Place award.

The restaurant is unlicensed, so diners take in their own alcoholic drinks to wash down the array of dishes available. Not only are the traditional meals served, but house specials and recommendations are also on the menu.

For our mains, I opted for Ilachi Bila - chicken tikka cooked with Indian cheese and fresh cream. Served with a vegetable rice, a peshwari naan, smothered in honey and coconut, gave it that perfect blend of sweet and savoury. Sharon's choice was chasni chicken, tikka with yoghurt and mango chutney, but there were a whole host of other dishes that took our fancy. A strawberry cheesecake sundae and coconut ice cream dessert provided, for us, the perfect ending. But for Alan and his new-look restaurant, this could be just the start. Call Eastern Memories on 01543 50217, log on to www.easternmemories.co.uk, email info@easternmemories.co.uk or visit Facebook.

Charity feline the strain in its bid to rehome cats

Gaynor Kmiolek, from The Cats Whiskers Rescue charity in Great Wyrley, which is looking for new homes for cats

A CAT rescue charity has issued a desperate appeal to animal lovers to help find homes for 70 cats.

The Cats Whiskers Rescue has been taking in strays and unwanted felines for the last 10 years, but a sudden drop in the numbers being re-homed has seen the charity reach capacity at its pens.

"We have some lovely cats and kittens that need a loving home," said Malcolm Haynes, who runs the charity with Brenda Hearnden.

"The past two years have particularly been difficult. We have really struggled to get cats into new homes.

Christmas

"At one point we were rehoming 500 a year but in the last year we probably managed around 100."

The charity is now refusing to take in any more animals and does not take in any cats over the Christmas period.

It has a base in Cannock that welcomes new cats, while its base in Great Wyrley is for cats ready to be re-homed.

The charity also runs a shop selling clothes and furniture in Quinton Court, also in Great Wyrley.

To re-home a cat, the charity asks for a minimum donation of £65.

Visit www.thecats-whiskers.org or call 01922 415940.

Project on cancer care

A PROJECT to transform the way in which cancer patients and those at the end of their lives are cared for is being launched.

Five Staffordshire Clinical Commissioning Groups (CCGs) are teaming up with Macmillan Cancer Support.

The project will look at commissioning services in a new way – so there would be one principal organisation responsible for the overall provision of cancer care and one for end-of-life care.

Patients, carers, doctors and other health professionals have already been asked how they think services could be improved and a series of roadshows will be held to give patients the chance to have their say.

Pupils join in council debate

PUPILS from Rugeley became councillors for the day as Cannock Chase Council opened up its chamber to the school's debating team.

Fair Oak Academy students aged 11 and 16 were welcomed by council chairman, Doris Grice and learned about the work the authority does. They were given a presentation by Staffordshire County Council's Civil Engineering Team on the forthcoming Horsefair Scheme in Rugeley, which prompted a debate.

Councillor Mrs Grice said: "It was a pleasure to welcome the pupils into our chamber. The questions they put forward to our cabinet members were well thought out and highlighted local issues.

"Students were asked what they would like to improve in their local area and if they would think about becoming a councillor. The students were articulate and engaged well in the debate."

Insight

Rachael Brennan, senior house manager at Fair Oak, said "The Student Council from Fair Oak Academy benefited hugely from their visit to Cannock Chase Council. The students were given an insight into what is involved in being a councillor and also got to voice their own concerns about the area in which they live."

"It is important that young people have a voice and our students certainly felt that their voices were heard."

Sessions for dog owners

DOGS and their owners are invited to a free taster session in dog training later this month.

The Cannock Chase Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB) team is holding two free dog training sessions ahead of weekly events that start in the new year. They aim to give the relevant advice to owners in keeping their pets under control on the Chase.

The hour-long taster sessions are at Birches Valley Concert Ground on Thursday, October 31, from 10am and 11.30am.

Consultation on moving post office to WHSmith

CANNOCK Post Office could close and move into WHSmith as part of cost-cutting measures. Under the plans, the Church Street branch would shut and open at the Market Place store.

A six-week consultation on the proposals began on Monday. If the plans are given the go-ahead, the post office would move in January. No jobs will be lost as a result.

Roger Gale, crown network general manager, said: "We are committed to keeping a post office branch in Cannock and to maintaining the same levels of service. We believe the best way for us to do this is to change the way we operate the branch, so if the move goes ahead it will be run by WHSmith High Street Ltd rather than by us directly."

VIP tickets to nightclub from Towie can be won

A RUGELEY charity shop is giving away a host of prizes as part of a month of fundraising initiatives.

The Air Ambulance is organising the money-spinners to celebrate the 10th anniversary of its Warwickshire & Northamptonshire emergency helicopter service.

Nightclub owner Norcross

Each of the charity's shops are organising their own celebration days throughout the 'Octobash', with Rugeley's Children's Air Ambulance shop going that extra mile to celebrate its own first birthday.

The Brewery Street shop is hosting a raffle, with prizes including six VIP tickets to Sugar Hut nightclub in Essex, made famous by the TV show 'The Only Way is Essex'. The tickets were donated by former 'TOWIE' star and nightclub owner Mick Norcross.

Paintball

The shop is also giving away a mini break to Cornwall, a dress donated and photographed by Fearne Cotton and prizes such as a paintball, theatre tickets, golf days, and spa vouchers. Customers can also try their luck in a tombola, hook a duck, cake decorating and colouring competitions.

The shop opened on October 4, 2012, and is the largest Children's Air Ambulance shop in the country, selling furniture, clothes, toys, bric-a-brac, books and media, as well as hot drinks and cakes.

The Children's Air Ambulance (TCAA) is a unique emergency helicopter transfer service taking seriously ill children and babies from hospitals to specialist paediatric treatment centres across England and Wales.

Rock Dogs play gig for charity

MODERN indie rock cover band The Rock Dogs perform a charity gig in Cannock tomorrow night (Friday).

They will be playing in the vault at The Bank Bar and Lounge in Wolverhampton Road, to raise money for Cannock Remembrance.

Entry is £5, from the bar or on the door.

Woman faces court over cheating benefits system

A WOMAN charged with cheating the benefits system out of £56,000 has appeared in court.

Theresa Forbes, aged 39, of Rake Hill, Burntwood, is accused of dishonestly claiming housing, council tax and income support over a five-year period, having allegedly failed to declare that she was married to Stephen Ingley.

Cannock magistrates sent the case to Stafford Crown Court where the next hearing is scheduled for January 20 next year. Forbes was granted bail.

Music mogul tells of love for Saddlers in new book

Chris Marsh, Steve Jenkins and Mark Rees with Swifty the mascot and two young Walsall supporters

A MUSIC mogul who has helped launched the careers of Britney Spears, Justin Timberlake and R Kelly appeared at the home of his beloved Walsall FC to launch his new book.

Steve Jenkins has written Walking Down the Wednesbury Road about his experiences as a regular at the Bescot, now Banks's.

The 59-year-old Bloxwich-born managing director of Jive Records first started watching Walsall as an eight-year-old boy.

But despite travelling the globe and having a helping hand in more than 85 number one records, Jenkins has continued to be a regular at Saddlers games. He signed copies of his book before the club's League One game against Bradford City in the club shop and bar areas.

He was accompanied by club legends Chris Marsh and Mark Rees, both of whom he names in his top 25 players to have pulled on a Saddlers shirt.

Headlines

The book includes details of famous games, pen pictures of players and brings the story up to the present day, including in detail when Jenkins himself hit the headlines two years ago after campaigning unsuccessfully to persuade Walsall Council to buy the Banks's Stadium.

Mr Jenkins said: "He said: 'I began working on the book when we were nine points adrift in the 2010-2011 season, just before Dean Smith took over as manager.'

"I'd already written a book about my time in the music business and while at times that was tough to write, this one has been a joy.

"I've been lucky enough to know a lot of people at the club and thought fans might be interested in the stories I had to tell," he added.

Copies are available to buy from the club shop, and for more information log on to stevejenkinsuk.com

Youngsters' community efforts win praise of MP

Gareth Downie, of Pertemps Coachright, Aidan Burley and NCS participants who renovated a Chadsmoor play area

THIRTY young people who volunteered their summer to make a difference to their communities have won praise from their MP.

The 16 and 17 year-olds all participated in the National Citizenship Service (NCS), an initiative launched three years ago by David Cameron aimed at inspiring teenagers to contribute positively back to society.

They were praised for their efforts by the Cannock Chase MP Aidan Burley. He said: "NCS is an excellent opportunity for young people to build valuable skills and broaden their horizons while making new friends."

Training

"The efforts of these young people demonstrates the true community spirit that exists in the county."

Steve Binns, of Pertemps Coachright - part of employment and training specialists Pertemps People Development Group which has an office in Cannock

- helped design and deliver the course. It included residential and team building elements in addition to undertaking a project to benefit the community.

"Aidan was invited as one of our guest speakers and his message was to concentrate on what could be achieved within the participants' own community," said Steve. "One group raised money for a homeless charity, another helped refurbish apparatus for children with special needs while a third settled on helping to renovate a play area in Chadsmoor."

All aboard for sailor in historic ceremony

Able seaman Robert Johnson, from Cannock, who was involved in the HMS Duncan commissioning ceremony

A CANNOCK sailor has taken part in a prestigious ceremony marking an important day in the life of his warship. Able Seaman Robert Johnson, serving on board HMS Duncan, was among the 190 crew involved in the ship's commissioning ceremony.

The event in Portsmouth marked the new ship's transition into front-line service and was attended by hundreds of guests, mainly family and friends of the crew.

AB Johnson, aged 28, moved to Cannock eight months ago from Walsall, where he attended Blue Coat Church of England School. He serves on board as a warfare specialist. AB Johnson said: "Taking part in the commissioning ceremony was one of the proudest moments in my Navy career and I'm looking forward to some challenging and rewarding times on board HMS Duncan."

The ship is the last of the Royal Navy's six new-generation Type 45 destroyers. They specialise in air defence and can defend the ship and escort vessels from hostile incoming aircraft and missiles approaching at subsonic and supersonic speed.

HMS Duncan will spend the next 12 months completing an intensive period of trials, mainly in UK waters, before she is ready to deploy on operations supporting British interests across the globe.

Permit plan on roadworks

A CRACKDOWN on roadworks will be launched across Staffordshire to stop drivers getting caught up in hours of delays on major routes, under plans unveiled this week.

Firms will be required to apply for a permit for works under the new proposals which county council bosses say could save millions of pounds.

The council says it will have greater control over when works take place.

Under the current system, a firm has to inform highways officers about planned works to allow projects to be co-ordinated but council chiefs say it can sometimes be difficult to persuade companies to co-operate.

Informed

They say a permit scheme will give them greater control to encourage working outside peak hours and keep residents and motorists better informed about projects. The plans were being discussed by the county council's cabinet yesterday (Wednesday).

Firms, such as utility companies, would have to apply to the authority for a permit.

The council would then be able to issue penalties for any breaches of regulations -including working outside agreed hours and overrunning. It is expected to cost the council between £50,000 and £100,000 in the first year.

FOCUS ON HEDNESFORD

Produce will be donated by students to food bank

STUDENTS at Hednesford Valley High School have been collecting food for this year's Harvest festival.

Year 7 pupils, teachers and staff have created boxes for a number of dried foods. They will be donated to Cannock and District food bank.

Teacher Jean Cotton and sixth-form students have also grown marrows and potatoes in the school's gardens which will also be harvested.

She said: "We are very proud of the students and we have thoroughly enjoyed organising this collection, decorating the boxes and learning about the Harvest festival."

"We are especially proud to be taking so much food to the food bank which is a very worthy cause."

"It will hopefully go some way towards helping residents who need it most."

Seasonal fair at Army base

A CHRISTMAS gift and craft fair will be held in Hednesford next month.

The free event, organised by the Salvation Army, takes place on Saturday November 16 from 10am at the Anglesey Street base.

Cards, toys, books and cakes will be on sale and there will be a grotto with proceeds to the branch.

Friends all set to light up the town with annual story walk

FRIENDS of Hednesford Park will light up the town when they host their annual story walk at the end of the month.

The event will take place on October 31 at 4.15pm, from Market Square, near the clock.

Parents and children will be guided around the perimeter of the park and listen to a spooky story by author Cindy Faulkner.

There will also be a treasure hunt and prizes for the best lantern and the best dressed ghosts and ghouls.

Gruesome

Friends group chairman Lynn Evans said: "We have had such a lot of support from local traders this year, it is wonderful to see everyone getting behind the walk."

"This year we have got a hog roast and a spooky buffet that youngsters and their parents will be able to tuck into including some gruesome food such as eyeballs."

"Youth services will also be educating children about who they should trick or treat this Halloween. The army cadets will be on hand to help marshal the event and members of Backstreet Theatre will be reading poems."

by Charlotte Lilley

Children will be able to take part in workshops at the Lightworks on October 28 and 30 from 12-4pm where they will be able to create lanterns.

A Halloween craft session will also be held on October 31 from 1-3pm.

Mrs Evans added: "It looks set to be a great few days of fun."

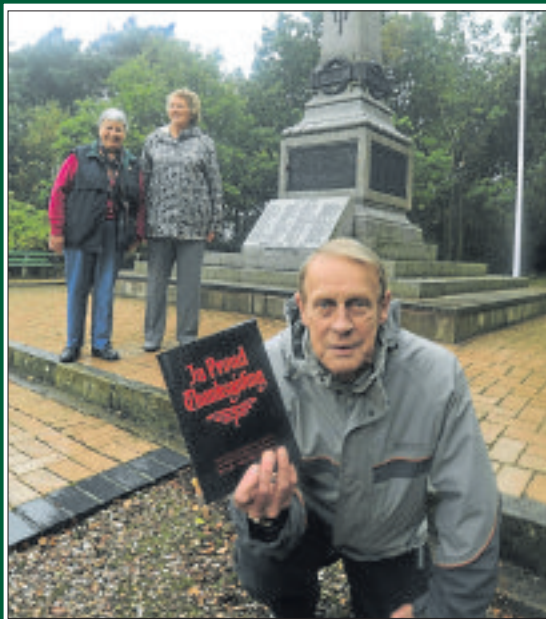

"We have also got face painting, a laser show and a DJ during the walk. Previously, it has always been well attended and everyone has a lot of fun."

"I am looking forward to seeing lots of parents and children again this year."

Traders host annual meeting

HEDNESFORD Traders Association will host its Annual General Meeting next Tuesday, October 22. It will be held at The Lightworks in Market Street at 6pm. For details or for a copy of the agenda visit www.ourhtc.btck.co.uk

Historian and author Tony Hunt with the In Proud Thanksgiving book about servicemen from the First World War. With him at Hednesford War Memorial are Gill Edwards and June Pickerill from Friends of the Museum of Cannock Chase

Book recalling fallen moves to present day

A BOOK that was written in 1922 has been given a new lease of life.

In Proud Thanksgiving was originally written by Mack Wright and lists the names of servicemen from Hednesford who died during the First World War. Thanks to the Friends of the Museum of Cannock Chase, it has now been reprinted.

The tome has been brought up to date by retired teacher Tony Hunt and 250 copies have been printed.

He said: "The book was written in 1922 shortly after the war memorial opened. I was approached by the Friends and I have taken it up to the present day. I have also included the names of tunnellers from Hednesford."

"I got permission from Mack's descendants who were quite surprised and were more than willing to let us publish it."

The book is available to buy from The Daisy Chain card shop in Market Street and Hednesford & District Ex Service Mens Club in Anglesey Street.

Mr Hunt added: "I will also be at the Lighthouse in Market Street on Saturday for anyone who would like to purchase a copy of the book."

Get in the Halloween spirit for half-term

YOUNGSTERS are invited to the Museum of Cannock Chase this half term for a week of Halloween-themed events.

The Museum of Cannock Chase, in Valley Road, Hednesford has organised creepy crafts and quizzes from Tuesday October 29 to Thursday 31.

The event is for children and their families and there will also be creative writing and art workshops.

Spokesman Lee Bellingham, said: "Children will love our spooktacular sessions, which are guaranteed to get them in the Halloween spirit and keep them entertained over the holiday period."

"Come along and see what we've got on offer."

Sessions cost £1.50 per child. For details call 01543 877666 or visit www.wlct.org/museumofcannockchase

Soul night at the Aquarius

AN evening of soul music will be on offer at the Aquarius Ballroom in Hednesford later this month.

The event in Victoria Street, takes place on October 25 from 8pm to 1am. There will be a range of Ska and reggae music on offer. Tickets cost £5.

Ed looking to slam rivals onto canvas

Burntwood Slam wrestling champion Ed Bird

A SLAM wrestling champion is coming 'home' for a bout in his native Burntwood. The American wrestling touring company last month handed its championship belt to Burntwood resident Ed Bird following a win over the previous title holder Layton Cole in Cardiff.

Bird, aged 20, successfully defended his title the following day and will be the main attraction at a live wrestling show on Monday, October 21, where he will again take on Cole. It takes place at Boney Hay Working Men's Club, from 7.30pm.

Also on the bill are 30-stoner Tim Burns, the high-flying sensation Charlie Rage, Charles Kelsey, James Terry and, from Memphis, Tennessee, Jonny Rose. Tag team action will see the UK All-Stars take on the Riot Squad.

Tickets are £5 and available from the club, in North Street. For more information about SLAM Wrestling visit www.slamwrestling.co.uk

Concerns as day services face the axe

COUNCIL-RUN day services for adults with learning disabilities could be axed under plans to save cash. Independent care providers would take over.

Staffordshire County Council has drawn up proposals to overhaul services and a consultation is running until November.

by Mark Mudie

In Cannock, Chase Day Services in Longford Road could be affected by the plans, which sparked concerns from members of Cannock Chase Council's health and wellbeing policy development committee.

Private

Angela Schulp, district commissioning lead for Cannock Chase, said the county council's preferred option was to transfer services to independent providers such as charities, community groups and private companies.

Under this option, services for those with more complex needs would continue to be provided by the council. Further plans would be made to transfer all services in the future.

Another option involves transferring all services immediately to independent providers and closing council-run services.

This could include Chase Day Services, where 89 people are believed to be registered.

A further option explores leaving services as they are, but the county council claims this would mean increased costs per person as large buildings are being under-used and staffing costs cannot be reduced.

Carers and service users have been asked for their opinions as part of the consultation.

But at last week's meeting, some councillors claimed the consultation was being rushed and called for more information to be provided on the proposals.

Councillor Muriel Davis said: "To me, the whole thing needs a longer consultation."

Half-term art at library

YOUNGSTERS can explore a range of art forms during a series of half-term events at Cannock Library. They are being held to support the Arts Award Discover programme. Children aged from seven-to-10 can complete a portfolio enabling them to receive an Arts Award Discover certificate. Author Shoo Rayner visits on October 28, followed by the Staffordshire Museum Service the next day. Theatre company Take A Hint perform at the Manor Avenue venue on October 31. For times, or to book, call 01543 510365.

The club's first ever team photo after becoming Heath Hayes United

The old Coppice Colliery is now Hayes' first team ground in Newlands Lane

The club's first match programme in 1989

Future looks bright for club as it celebrates 50th season

AS the club celebrates its 50th season, the future looks bright for Heath Hayes FC.

With the first team plying its trade in the Midland Alliance League, there is also a thriving junior section with 16 teams now affiliated to the club.

The continued growth has ensured the club is healthier than ever with the largest number of junior teams in its history.

Feeder teams vary from under-7s through to under-21s, playing in leagues from the Lichfield & District, through to the West Midlands Junior and Midland Combination.

It was back in 1964 that the forerunner to the Heath Hayes FC we know now kicked off its history. The side broke away from the Co-Op Youth League and formed its own team, called in those days Heath Hayes United.

A clutch of trophies followed, including the Sam Kimberley Cup, the CIU Cup, Bloxwich Charity Cup, Orlando Evans Cup, J Edge Cup and Penkridge Charity Cup.

In its early days, the club was run from the Five Ways Inn, with the first season spent in the Cannock Youth League before joining Division Two of the Cannock Chase League. Promotion to the Premier League, followed by a brief flirtation with Sunday football, also saw a move to a new base, the Heath Hayes Constitutional Club, and a change of name – Heath Hayes Cons FC.

The club spent the early part of the 1970s in the Mid Staffs League before becoming members of the Staffs County League (South).

Decade

After an eventful 15 seasons, a move back to the Five Ways saw the club become Heath Hayes FC where bosses decided to join the Staffordshire Senior League ahead of a switch to the West Midlands Regional League.

More silverware followed as over a decade, the club lifted the Division One title in 1999 and the Staffs FA Senior Vase in 2002. Due to boundary changes, the club switched to the Midland Combination Premier and finished eighth in their first season.

A successful FA Vase run coincided with progress to the final of the Walsall Senior Cup in 2007/08, while the following season saw Hayes lift the Staffordshire Vase and take part in the FA Cup for the first time.

Four years ago, success came on and off the field as Charter Standard status was achieved for the first time and promotion was gained as champions to the Midland Alliance under then boss Simon Davies. Steve Taylor, a former pro with Crystal Palace and a former coach to the club's junior sides, is now at the helm.

Carousel at the Grand was big break for Sian

by Alison Norton

WHEN Sian Reeves joined South Staffs Musical Theatre Company back in 1983 for their production of Carousel, little did she know it would lead to a highly successful theatrical and TV career spanning three decades.

Best known for her roles as Sydney in the hairdressing drama, Cutting It, as the evil Sally Spode in Emmerdale and currently starring as the crazy, nosey neighbour, Bianca in Sky TV's comedy, Mount Pleasant, Sian has certainly made a name for herself on the small screen. However, it all started in Wolverhampton at the city's Grand Theatre.

Born in West Bromwich and raised in Brewton, Sian, a former pupil at Wolgarston High School in Fenkridge, joined The Lytton School of Dance aged just two, not wanting to be left out when her sister Dawn began to tread the boards.

Tears

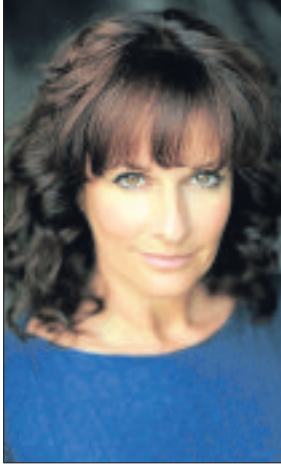

"My earliest memory of theatre is being late for my cue in a dance called My Old Man said Follow the Van, where I was dressed as a Cockney lady with a bird cage," she said. "I was in floods of tears and my mum carried me off."

Years of tutus and tap shoes followed until Sian won the role of Louise, the daughter of the leading couple in Carousel.

"I had this amazing dance routine which was seven minutes long, including a pas de deux with a kiss," she said.

"I remember leaping and running across the stage and then the acting part of the role which is very emotional. I loved every minute of it and couldn't wait to get on stage for every performance," she said.

Thirty years on, South Staffs Musical Theatre Company have again just performed Carousel at The Grand.

Big break – Sian Reeves, who started out in am dram in Wolverhampton

Comedy roles – Sian Reeves as Bianca in Mount Pleasant

Success – the current Carousel production at the Grand Theatre

The five-night run, from October 8-12 featured 14-year-old Lizzy Bowers, a contemporary dancer from Walsall as Louise.

It is interesting to see how the dance styles have evolved over the years. Sian's version was much more balletic whereas Lizzy's interpretation has a modern, edgy approach.

Talent

So how does professional theatre differ from am dram? In Sian's eyes, the desire and passion to perform are exactly the same and the talent is on a par.

"In fact there is much more joy in am dram as you work so hard all year long for just one week in a theatre," she added.

"Everyone is doing a day job too and so it becomes a mixture of pleasure, fatigue and silliness which is just wonderful." TV work is very different to theatre but which does Sian prefer?

"I honestly don't mind as long as I am working," she said. "I enjoy both. I am probably best known as a northern comedy girl, but I really want to play a detective."

"That said, I love playing Bianca in Mount Pleasant with her lovely make-up and hair extensions. She's great."

"Lots of 30 somethings recognise me from Cutting It which they watched as teenagers and as Bianca now and it is really sweet when people ask for photos or autographs," said Sian.

Sian is currently appearing in It's A Family Affair at Sherman Cymru, with a fourth series of Mount Pleasant also in the offing.

Bruno Mars, Birmingham NIA

A RAINY night in Birmingham, gridlocked roads and all car parks full. It was not the most promising start to a weekend but within five minutes of Bruno Mars hitting the stage at the NIA all the hassle was forgotten.

This guy is good. The Hawaiian cat in the white Fedora hat exudes soulful exuberance, combined with his all-action backing band and their synchronised dance moves.

With just two albums Mars has established himself at the top of the music game. The 5ft 5in dinky dynamo busts some James Brown moves, shows his prowess on guitar and drums, but sings with real conviction.

Best received was When I Was Your Man, from which he wringing every drop of emotion. His encore for the capacity crowd was Locked Out Of Heaven and Gorilla in a literally explosive finale.

Leon Burakowski

Enchanting songstress with a gorgeous voice

Cara Dillon, Town Hall, Birmingham

IF Cara Dillon were a siren then the wariest of old seadogs would be lured by her enchanting voice. Appropriately she opened with a sea shanty-style song about true love.

Northern Irish songstress Dillon's gorgeous tones then lent themselves to Rise Up My Darling, a traditional song she sang in Irish. The band admitted they were 'winging it' somewhat as they had a little time to get everyone together and rehearse and many songs were from forthcoming album A Thousand Hearts.

Dillon really got to show off her gorgeous voice with ballads Donald and Garden Valley, for which she was accompanied by Sam Lakeman on grand piano.

For the encore she treated her fans to another traditional Irish tune Johnny, Lovely Johnny ending with a lovely haunting version of the Parting Glass. Danny Farragher

Shaw-fire hit from superb, passionate cast

12 Angry Men, Birmingham Rep

WHEN you re-enact a film as iconic and acclaimed as 12 Angry Men you had better get it right, fortunately the terrifically passionate cast led by Martin Shaw did and superbly so.

Shaw, who takes the part of the quietly spoken architect, Juror No8, played by Henry Fonda in the 1957 film adaptation, is supported by a cast which includes Hollywood Walk of Famer Robert Vaughn and British film star Nick Moran.

The drama focuses on the tensions of a jury deciding the fate of a juvenile delinquent accused of murdering his father and facing the electric chair in 1950s America. When the vote is taken one man, Juror No8, stands alone and dares to express his doubts, much to the chagrin of the others who see it as a cut and dried case.

Shaw's character tries to express his doubts amid the clamour of bigotry and angst which surfaces from the variety of characters, none more so than Miles Richardson as Juror No.10 who is fantastic as the furious and sickeningly bigoted blue collar "Joe" who takes every opportunity to spit his venom and bile to all around him.

Also, Juror No.11, played by Lee J Cobb in the film, and this time played with heart-rending passion by Martin Turner as the bitter and twisted self-appointed executioner who wants to vent all the rage from the disappointment of his own son on to the accused.

The tension builds as one by one Shaw voices his "reasonable doubts" and gradually makes the other jurors face their own faults and demons. There are incredibly poignant moments which for such a serious subject matter oddly elicited a great many laughs from the audience.

A slight hiccup was the dramatic moment with the flick knife – a crucial point – which Shaw fluffed slightly and lost its impact somewhat. But overall an incredible performance from the entire cast. It runs until October 19.

BOOKS

Haunting tales for Halloween from masters of the macabre

M.R. Jones
Collected Ghost Stories

Restless and relentless spectres

Adult Fiction

FOR skin-crawling terror, no one has surpassed Montague Rhodes James. In unforgettable tales such as Oh Whistle and I'll Come To You My Lad, A View from a Hill and A Warning to the Curious, the 19th century born Cambridge University academic perfected the ghost story.

James's horrors lurk in the shadows of ancient churches, in the pages of dusty books or even in the very sheets of your bed. His protagonists are often scholars, whose meddling in the past stirs a vengeful, implacable supernatural foe.

Another academic, Darryl Jones, has edited a new edition of M.R. James: Collected Ghost Stories (Oxford University Press, paperback, £8.99). Here are all 33 tales of terror. If you read them, be prepared for restless nights.

If you are partial to Downton Abbey and period ghost stories such as The Others, look no further than The Uninvited Guests by Sadie Jones (Vintage Books, paperback, £7.99).

It's 1912 and preparations are taking place above and below stairs for the 20th birthday of Emerald Torrington at the grand but crumbling Sterne House. So it comes as a major inconvenience when passengers involved in a rail accident arrive seeking shelter. As night falls and a storm rages, the Torrington family start to feel uneasy about their mysterious uninvited guests and not just because some of them may have come from third class.

Children's Fiction

David Walliams is familiar to adults for his comic antics in Little Britain and Big School, but to the nation's children he is better known as a hugely popular author of cheeky irreverent stories much in the tradition of Roald Dahl. In his latest book chart-topper Demon Dentist (HarperCollins, hardback, £12.99) the tooth fairy has apparently been leaving slugs and spiders under pillows instead of the usual coin. Dentally-challenged young lad Alfie, who has decided magic does not exist, is reluctant to believe his friend Gabz when she warns him that new dentist, the terrifying Miss Root, is a witch. Walliams handles the comedy well but also touches on issues with an unpatronising frankness. Miss Root is his nastiest villain yet.

Haunted (Oxford University Press, paperback, £6.99) by William Hussey is a tasty terror tale for teens. A pair of youngsters discover that the disturbing stories of strange goings-on in the town of Milton Lake are more than tall tales. Someone is using a Ghost Machine to conjure angry spirits back and they determine to stop them. This story from the Witchfinder author is worth checking out if you like Darren Shan and Ray Bradbury.

Ghosthunter Anthony Lockwood and Co have a last chance of redemption after another case goes wrong but it means the team – including new psychic investigator Lucy Carlyle – spending a night in the most haunted house in Britain. Bartmaeus author Jonathan Stroud's The Screaming Staircase (Doubleday, hardback, £12.99) is the start of an exciting new series for older children set in a Britain suffering an epidemic of ghosts.

Best-selling author of The Spook's Apprentice, Joseph Delaney, will leave plenty of ten and 11-year-olds yearning for the light to be left on after reading this spooky tale about the place they put the worst phantoms, The Ghost Prison (Andersen Press, hardback, £7.99). We join young guard Billy on his first night on duty and learn about the inmates. This book is short, 112 pages, and has fine spooky black and white illustrations. A perfect Halloween read for youngsters.

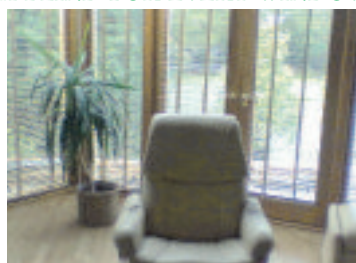

Non-fiction

Having grown up in a supposedly haunted house Roger Clarke developed an interest in the supernatural at an early age. In his A Natural History of Ghosts: 500 Years of Hunting for Proof (Particular Books, hardback, £20) he looks at ghostly encounters from psychological, historical and sociological perspectives, and calls upon a wealth of anecdotes.

Treading boards in self-penned panto

Kevin Wilcox as Scrooge in a previous Rep production
A BURNWOOD man is performing at the Old Rep in Birmingham, in a panto he wrote himself.

Kevin Wilcox, a member of the Midland Co-Operative Society Repertory Company (MCS) is playing the "Evil Queen" in Snow White.

The 40-strong cast includes children and a dance school. Children are playing the role of the dwarfs. There are four performances, running on Thursday October 31, Friday, November 1 and Saturday November 2. The evening shows commence at 7.30pm, with a Saturday matinee at 2.30pm.

The Co-Operative Society has nominated the Cannock based Newlife Foundation For Disabled Children as their sponsored charity and all profit from the Thursday performance will be donated to them.

Tickets are £9 adults and £8 children and over 60s. For further details contact Kevin Wilcox on 01543 321770 or the box office on 0121 245 4455.

Vaccination programme to prevent TB

A FIVE-YEAR badger vaccination programme has been launched to help stop the spread of bovine tuberculosis.

Staffordshire Wildlife Trust, which is against culling the animals, is carrying out vaccinations at two of its nature reserves across the county.

It comes after a six-week badger cull was launched in west Somerset in August. It has since been extended by three weeks because a target for the number of animals killed has not been reached.

Farming
The vaccination programme in Staffordshire is intended to help reduce the risk of tuberculosis being transmitted between badgers and cattle.

Staffordshire Wildlife Trust's head of living landscapes, Dr Sue Lawley, said: "Bovine TB causes huge economic hardship and distress to the farming community and we are very conscious of the need to find the right mechanisms to control the disease."

"We believe a badger cull is not the answer and that the development and deployment of a cattle vaccine is the long-term solution to bovine tuberculosis."

Trust volunteers will be

by Laura Blyth
targeting up to four badger sets this year.

The use of a badger vaccine is currently the only non-lethal way of tackling TB. Earlier this year Staffordshire Wildlife Trust launched a public appeal to raise £25,000 for its badger vaccination scheme.

Donations will pay for vaccination supplies, essential equipment and staff training. During the vaccination process wild badgers are captured overnight in live traps before being treated with the vaccine the following morning and then released back into the wild.

Each vaccinated badger is then given a colour-mark to allow researchers to estimate the percentage of badgers treated in the area, whilst ensuring already vaccinated badgers can be immediately released if recaptured.

Alert over chip pan fires

HOMEOWNERS are being warned about the dangers of leaving chip pans unattended on the hob after two recent fires. The first was at a flat in Devon Road, Cannock, on August 14. The occupier, who had fallen asleep in the lounge, was woken by the smell of smoke. On October 5 fire crews from Cannock were called to a bungalow in Banbury Road, Cannock. The blaze caused heat and smoke damage. Cannock station manager Jim Bywater said: "The important message here is to look when you cook."

Wondering what to do for the October Half Term?

Why not join us for our 'Family Activity Week' from Saturday 26th October to Friday 1st November 2013. We have great Autumn activities at the Farm with spooky crafts, pumpkin carving and fun quizzes and trails.

Tributes to rock and roll legends

A NON-stop, unmissable tribute to two rock 'n' roll icons takes centre stage at Cannock's Prince of Wales Centre.

Buddy and the Killer takes place at the Church Street theatre on Sunday, October 27, from 7.30pm.

It celebrates the music of the legendary Buddy Holly and Jerry Lee Lewis and features unforgettable numbers such as Peggy Sue, That'll Be The Day, Rave On, Great Balls of Fire and Whole Lotta Shakin'.

Piano

Taking the lead role will be West End entertainer Billy Geraghty, star of the smash hit musicals Buddy and Great Balls of Fire. The high-energy performance will come via either piano, a la Lewis, or from the Fender Stratocaster as Holly, backed up by the Memphis Crickets.

Tickets are priced at £6, available from the box office in Church Street on 01543 578762.

Celebrating 60 glorious years

ANDY Le Marr and friends celebrate the diamond anniversary of the MS Society with a glamour show next week.

The show, 60 Glorious Shows, will be staged at Cannock's Prince of Wales Centre, Church Street, from 7.30pm on Wednesday, October 23, compered by Radio WM's Jennie Wilkes.

Call 01543 578762 for tickets, priced at £10.

True story of teacher facing prejudice and surly students

Suede stay together for Bloodsports

Suede return with their first album in 11 years, Bloodsports, and a gig at Birmingham O2 Academy on October 31

BRITPOP hipsters Suede bounced back in 2013 with their sixth album Bloodsports, their first since A New Morning 11 years before.

It has marked a return to form that ensures the comeback is more than mere 1990s nostalgia.

Brett Anderson and co will be back in action on a tour this month that includes a gig at Birmingham O2 Academy on Thursday, October 31.

It's part of a stellar line up at the city centre venue over the next couple of weeks which features former Sex Pistol John Lydon's Public Image Ltd (supported by The Selecter) on Sunday; highly-rated new band London Grammar on Wednesday; Fill

My Little World outfit The Feeling on October 26 in the venue's smaller 2 room, as 1990s favourites Travis play the main hall; and exciting young Nottingham singer-songwriter Jake Bugg hitting the venue like a Lightning Bolt on October 28 and 29, before completing his Birmingham Academy hat-trick on November 10.

MATTHEW Kelly stars opposite Royal Shakespeare Company actor Ansu Kabia in a new stage adaptation of ER Braithwaite's To Sir With Love at Wolverhampton's Grand Theatre from Tuesday to Saturday, October 22 to 26.

TV presenter turned respected actor Matthew Kelly plays the enlightened headmaster of a tough school in London's East End in 1948 who takes on a former RAF fighter pilot as a teacher. But some question his judgement because the former Cambridge graduate, played by Ansu Kabia, also happens to be black.

Experiences

This touring production of Braithwaite's play has been adapted by East Is East writer Ayub Khan Din. It is the first in a new programme of work co-produced by Touring Consortium Theatre Company with the highly-rated Royal & Derngate Northampton.

Guyana-born Edward Ricardo Braithwaite had based To Sir With Love on his own experiences. It was made into a major film in 1967 starring Sidney Poitier and featuring the hit title song made famous by Lulu.

This new stage adaptation is peppered with the songs and dances of the late 40s, a time of hope and austerity. If I Were A Rich Man

Theatrical blockbuster War Horse continues at Birmingham Hippodrome.

Maureen Lipman stars in poignant drama Daytona at Birmingham Rep from Monday to Saturday.

The Reduced Shakespeare Company pack all 37 Shakespeare plays into 97 minutes at Birmingham New Alexandra Theatre on Saturday night.

Classic Clapton at town theatre

A TOP tribute to Eric Clapton makes a welcome return to Cannock next week.

It is more than 10 years since Classic Clapton made the last of three appearances at the Prince of Wales Centre.

Founded in Newcastle in 1985, before the term 'tribute band' was coined, they are fronted by Mike Hall, who not only looks like Clapton, but plays guitar like him too.

Classic Clapton have toured throughout the UK performing many sell-out shows. The two-hour show is a musical journey through all Clapton's work so fans are asked to book early to avoid disappointment.

All the hits will feature, including I Shot The Sheriff, Wonderful Tonight, Layla, Lay Down Sally and Tears in Heaven. The show is on Friday, October 25 from 7.30pm. For tickets, at £16, call the Church Street centre's box office on 01543 578762.

Stage is set for acclaimed ballet

BALLET Theatre UK presents the acclaimed Tchaikovsky classic The Nutcracker at the Prince of Wales Centre in Cannock.

Under the artistic direction of Christopher Moore, it will feature more than 80 costumes and breathtaking scenery.

Showtime is 7.30pm on Thursday, October 24 at the Church Street venue. Prices vary from £17.50 to £10. Call 01543 578762.

Trevor Eve (right)

Waking the Dead Drama, 9pm

This modern classic stars Trevor Eve as Detective Superintendent Peter Boyd. He is a troubled and volatile – but brilliant – police officer who's an expert at closing cold cases. Boyd heads up a crack squad of police investigators who reopen unsolved murder cases, using new technology to re-examine evidence that hopefully will lead to the killer. In the first episode, Boyd is approached by Marina Coleman a woman convinced her father's death in a car crash was neither an accident nor suicide, but something far more sinister.

Catherine Cookson's The Moth

Drama, 9pm
Based on the Catherine Cookson novels, Jack Davenport stars in a feature-length drama, set in north-east England at the turn of the 20th century. Robert Bradley, a young man of independent mind and spirit, leaves the shipyards to work in his uncle's furniture business but soon finds himself at odds with the old man. So he becomes a servant for the destructive Thormans. Whilst working at the house he falls for the lady of the house, Sarah (Juliet Aubrey). But in 1913 this romance can only lead to upset and disaster.

Film Choices

Chaos, Channel 5, 11pm

A veteran cop and his inexperienced new partner are assigned to investigate a bank heist. At first sight, no money appears to have been stolen. However, it eventually emerges the criminal mastermind behind the robbery had a more complex and profitable scheme in mind – and a possible connection to the detective on his trail. Crime thriller, starring Jason Statham. (2005)

TUESDAY

A Simple Plan, BBC1, 11.20pm

Two brothers and a friend stumble on a fortune in unmarked small dollar bills in the wreckage of a plane and decide to squirrel it away for themselves. However, the strain of keeping the cache secret takes its toll as guilt, paranoia and greed change their relationship for ever. Sam Raimi's psychological thriller, starring Bill Paxton, Billy Bob Thornton and Bridget Fonda. (1998)

WEDNESDAY

Is Anybody There?, BBC1, 11.35pm

A lonely 10-year-old boy lives in a building his parents have converted into an old people's retirement home. He initially resents having to share his life with the elderly residents, but when a retired magician comes to stay he strikes up an unlikely friendship and finds his life transformed. Drama, starring Michael Caine. (2008)

Basic Instinct, Friday, ITV, 10.35pm

THURSDAY

Wake of the Red Witch, Channel 4, 1.05pm

A ship owner and his embittered captain engage in a battle of wits as they fight for the love of the same woman and embark on a quest for a treasure chest of pearls hidden in the den of an octopus in the South Seas. Romantic seafaring adventure, starring John Wayne, Luther Adler, Gig Young and Gail Russell. (1949)

FRIDAY

Basic Instinct, ITV, 10.35pm

A hard-drinking San Francisco cop investigates the case of a man murdered with an ice-pick, but his normally well-honed intuition starts letting him down as he falls for the sultry and manipulative chief suspect, the victim's former girlfriend. Thriller from director Paul Verhoeven, starring Sharon Stone, Michael Douglas, George Dzundza and Jeanne Tripplehorn. (1992)

Halloween H20, BBC1, 11.50pm

Homicidal madman Michael Myers returns to stalk his original target, now an alcoholic teacher, 20 years after his first killing spree, and ends up terrorising a group of teenagers in a deserted school. Horror sequel, starring Jamie Lee Curtis, Janet Leigh, Josh Hartnett and Michelle Williams. (1998)

Pick of the Week

Cooking up more tasty treats for the judges

Let's hope that whoever came up with the format for The Great British Bake Off has got a cut of the profits from selling the show to other countries – because if they have, they'll be worth a packet.

It's been sold to around a dozen countries outside the UK, including France, Australia and Poland, with Finland and Holland the latest to jump on the bandwagon.

"We've seen broadcasters around the world put their own special twist on the format to great success, for example with the speciality cakes that are associated with different countries," says Elin Thomas at BBC Worldwide. "Baking is a tradition everyone can relate to so I have no doubt this brilliant format will only continue to win more fans around the world."

What's more, Dutch viewers will also get to see the UK version: "I'm very proud that we will broadcast this series in The Netherlands," explains Jan Slagter, CEO of the channel MAX. "We have a rich baking tradition, from Fries Suikerbrood (Fries sugar bread) to Brabantse worstenbroodjes (Brabantse sausage rolls). We want to inspire our viewers, so that the whole country will start baking!"

But for now, the only version we're interested in is the original, British one, because it's the week of the final.

Last year's final featured three men – Brendan Lynch, James Morton and John Whaite.

In a shock result, it was John who won. He'd been a bit of a steady Eddie throughout the run, always doing okay without pulling up any trees, and simply made fewer mistakes than his fellow competitors in the last programme, which gave judges Mary Berry and Paul Hollywood no option but to crown him the winner.

This year it will be very different – not least because the last remaining bloke, English teacher Glenn Cosby, bowed out of the competition in week seven.

Since then, it's been the women fighting it out, but in the nicest possible way, of course. They all clearly want to win, but obviously feel a tad guilty when they see one of their friends knocked out of the competition.

Last week, Welsh wonder Beca, stylish Frances, ever-smiling Kimberley and doe-eyed Ruby set out to impress by baking the perfect savoury canapés, charlotte royals and opera cake.

As usual there were tears, smiles and yelps of frustration. Expect something similar here, but with 100 times the stress added, in this week's grand finale.

As ever, Mel Giedroyc and Sue Perkins attempt to mop their furrowed brows.

Janice Hadlow, controller of BBC2, can't wait for the programme either – or, no doubt, to see the ratings figures once they come in: "I'm absolutely thrilled by the phenomenal success of Great British Bake Off – all the ingredients of record ratings, a worthy winner, the expertise of Mary and Paul, wonderful presenters Mel and Sue and a brilliant series put together by Love productions plus of course all those irresistible cakes have come together to make a very special programme for BBC2."

The Great British Bake Off – The Final, Tuesday, BBC2, 8pm

Health Freaks

Channel 4, 8.30pm

Many doctors are baffled by patients who are turning to the web for alternatives to conventional treatments, and are getting to hear of more and more extraordinary 'miracle' home remedies. But do any of these cures work? That's what Dr Pixie McKenna, Dr Ellie Cannon and Dr Ayan Panja are keen to find out. In this new series, the docs are on the lookout for simple, safe and scientifically convincing health solutions. If any of the applicants can convince the GPs that there might be something in their remedy, it will be put forward for a trial or test. First in to see the doctors are builders Simon and Andy, who believe WD-40 could be a quick fix for arthritis.

TUESDAY

CSI: New York – The Penultimate Episode

Channel 5, 9pm

So, that's almost it then. After nine years, the second spin-off from Jerry Bruckheimer's slick series is almost at an end. This week, the Big Apple-centric saga bows out with a double bill marking the final appearance of Detectives Mac Taylor and Danny Messer. There's no shortage of variety in the penultimate episode: three separate murders on Valentine's Day. The CSIs are called to investigate when a diabetic man dies from eating 2lbs of chocolate, a company boss is killed at an outdoor farmers' market while on the way to meet his soon-to-be ex-wife, and the demise of a man in a hotel room also leaves the experts with their hands full. Look out for a guest appearance from Josh Groban as himself.

WEDNESDAY

Father Figure

BBC1, 10.35pm

It seems stand-up and panel show appearances aren't enough for today's comedians, and more and more of them are getting their own sitcoms. Jason Byrne's offering, Father Figure, has not been universally well received, but we reckon that's got more to do with the odd timeslot than anything else – despite its late hour, it's actually a nice, innocent slice of fun. Those who have stuck with it so far, though, will need little encouragement to tune in for this final edition. It finds the family in shock, as Elaine announces she could be having another baby, and Tom is aghast. But it could be a false alarm – after all, the only one gaining weight and developing strange food cravings is him.

THURSDAY

No Sex Please, We're Japanese

BBC2, 9pm

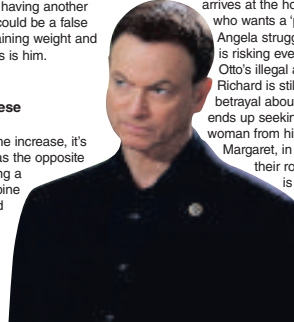

With the world's population on the increase, it's surprising to learn that Japan has the opposite problem: various factors, including a rapidly declining birth rate, combine to mean that its population could shrink by as much as a third in just 40 years. But just why are the Japanese having fewer babies? In the first of three documentaries exploring global population trends for the This World strand, Anita Rani heads to the country to explore the otaku culture, which describes an obsession with computer games, manga and anime. With a growing number of young people, particularly males, spending more and more time immersed in these self-confessed 'geeky' pastimes, some are withdrawing from the dating game entirely. But is it a substitute for the real thing?

Breathless

ITV, 9pm

This 1960s-set hospital drama is certainly aptly named – it's left us open-mouthed and short of breath on many an occasion. This week, as Jean arrives at the hospital with a patient who wants a 'private' procedure, Angela struggles to believe her sister is risking everything to assist with Otto's illegal activities. Meanwhile, Richard is still hurting from his wife's betrayal about the miscarriage, and ends up seeking out a glamorous woman from his past by the name of Margaret, in the hope of rekindling their romance. And Elizabeth is growing tired of Chief Inspector Mulligan's interference, so she hits upon the idea of arranging to meet him, with the hope of getting him off her case once and for all. Jack Davenport and Natasha Little star.

CSI: New York – The Penultimate Episode, Tuesday, Channel 5, 9pm

FRIDAY

Marvel's Agents of SHIELD

Channel 4, 8pm

It was a question on many Marvel fans' lips: once showrunner Joss Whedon handed the writing and directing reins on Agents of SHIELD over to other folks, could they sustain the level of hip, witty brilliance that made the pilot so engaging? Well, there have been times when Agents of SHIELD has been a tad disappointing, but it's still one of the best imports of recent years. This week, Phil Coulson and his cohorts are Asia-bound, where they hope to save a young man with an unusual and dangerous power. Could an elusive girl in a floral dress hold the key to the mystery? Clark Gregg is as good as ever, while fine support comes from Ming-Na Wen, Chloe Bennet and Brett Dalton.

TV's 50 Greatest Magic Tricks

Channel 5, 9pm

Channel 5 is rather fond of countdown shows, and a broadcaster is giving us another chance to see one that focuses on magic tricks. The problem with magic is that these days, there are so many hi-tech advances being made, a lot of people can either work out how they've been done, or are more impressed by something they can whip up on their laptop at home. Nevertheless, there are a handful of tricks that do stand the test of time, and those are the ones that concern us here. Contributions come from Paul Daniels and Debbie McGee, Penn and Teller, Dick and Dom, Stephen Mulhern, Joe Pasquale and new magic wunderkind Dynamo.

New team leads the way in property consultancy

OCTOBER sees the team at Whitehouse Property Group in Hednesford leading the way with new fixed fee packages for all new instructions.

Director John Whitehouse says the business offers more than just estate agency services and said: "We are a leading independent property consultancy business based in the heart of Hednesford which is the gateway to The Chase."

"Our team has a vast knowledge of the area, proven track record and the ability to listen to our clients' needs and build packages and a service to suit them."

Independent

"Our flexible working hours mean we are able to offer more to customers through our professional and independent network of associates. We also have an independent financial advisor and a mortgage advisor all under one roof."

Mr Whitehouse is pleased to announce and welcome a new team on board tasked with driving the business forward including Lisa Urry who joined Whitehouse Property Group in June 2013 as PA to the directors.

She took the role of office manager in August this year bringing a wealth of experience with her, and is a key member of the team.

Another asset is Jo Durham – who also joined in August – as sales and lettings manager. Her previous experience and knowledge of the property market is a great asset to the team.

Re-joining the business this year is Mitch Robinson as IT/web designer.

His great technical skills make him a crucial member of the Whitehouse Property Group team.

This new team will allow Linda Whitehouse who is a local councillor, time to focus on her political career and dedicate the time needed in her local community.

With the launch of the sister company "UNO Properties" Linda will still be involved in Whitehouse Property Group as a part-time business development manager working on project management, renovations, acquisitions and wealth creation for property investors locally, nationally and overseas.

The Whitehouse Property Group is currently looking for properties in the Cannock, Rugeley, Hednesford, Penkridge, Lichfield and surrounding areas.

Call sales and lettings manager Jo Durham on 07925 456713 for further details.

Motoring

Compiled by Motoring
Editor Sharon Walters

AS a young driver, shopping for car insurance can be a stressful task – you're likely to be faced with many unaffordable insurance quotes.

The Institute of Advanced Motoring (IAM) advises younger motorists to use comparison sites to shop around, and consider having a telematics box fitted to bring your premiums down.

Further driver training will also bring costs down.

As part of learning to drive, it's likely that you will have been taught how to do basic checks on your vehicle – tyre tread and pressure, fluid levels, lights, and mirrors and windows.

It's important that you spend a few minutes each week doing each of these checks in order to avoid a breakdown and drive safely. The law states that you are allowed up to 80mg of alcohol per 100ml of blood before you are over the drink-drive limit.

Beware

However, it's impossible to judge how much you can drink and still be under the limit, so make it NONE for the road.

And beware the morning-after effect – there may still be enough alcohol in your system to land you with a conviction for drink-driving.

It's inevitable once you pass your test you'll be expected to taxi your friends.

But passengers are known to be one of the biggest and most disruptive in-car distractions. Make sure you keep your concentration on the road, rather than on your passengers.

Learner drivers are not allowed on the motorway. This means once they pass, they are faced with the often daunting task of driving on high-speed, unfamiliar roads.

But there is no need to be anxious – motorways are statistically our safest roads, and the skills you learned to pass your test will equip you to take them on. Remember to check your mirrors more regularly and leave a minimum two second gap between yourself and the car in front.

Perils of being a young driver can be daunting

Young drivers need to shop around to find the best insurance deals

New Porsche power player revealed ahead of LA show

THE new Porsche 911 Turbo Cabriolet has been revealed ahead of its launch at the Los Angeles Motor Show.

The model takes a largely familiar format to models that have gone before it, but this time the German firm's releasing two Turbo models at the same time.

The 513bhp Turbo Cabriolet will be the entry point to the forced-induction 911 duo, starting at £126,766 before options. Thanks to four-wheel drive, it can sprint from 0-62mph in 3.5 seconds - 0.3 seconds slower than its coupe counterpart.

It shares a 197mph top speed and a fuel economy average of 28.5mpg with the more powerful Turbo S model, which completes the industry-standard launch to 62mph in just 3.2 seconds. It does, however, cost £149,511, which takes account of some improved interior appointments and upgraded features over the Turbo.

The two new 911s have been built with a new, wider bodyshell that adds 28mm to the overall width at the rear wheels compared to the widest current 911. Previously, Turbo models have used the Carrera 4's already widened shell. Both new models share the same roof, which uses a new design of folding mechanism to better mimic the shape of the 911 coupe's silhouette.

As before, the electric mechanism can be raised and lowered at up to 31mph, with this iteration taking a brisk 13 seconds to switch between either position.

More details will be revealed closer to the models' debut at the LA Show in November.

The first car from Qoros, the 3 saloon, has scored an impressive five-star Euro NCAP result

New Chinese marque is proving to be a safe bet

FLEDGLING Chinese car brand Qoros has scored an impressive five-star Euro NCAP result with its first car, the 3 saloon.

Bolstering a 95 per cent score in the long-established adult occupant protection and an 87 per cent awarded for child passenger protection is an excellent 77 per cent for pedestrian protection - a high score in what is a developing category.

The 95 per cent is, according to Qoros, the highest adult occupant protection score awarded by Euro NCAP in 2013, and has helped the brand achieve its status as the first Chinese-based manufacturer to produce a five-star car in the notoriously challenging crash test regime.

Volker Steinwascher, vice-chairman of Qoros, said: "The safety of our vehicles was one of our key development goals from the start. It's a crucial demonstration that our customers are the most important consideration and it also says a great deal about the engineering integrity of the car as a whole."

Andy Piper, chief engineer of vehicle safety and homologation explains: "The 2013 Euro NCAP protocol demands very accurate computer simulations when calculating the pedestrian protection performance. As industry standard pedestrian models were not sophisticated enough for this purpose, Qoros developed its own models.

"The outcome is that we are proud to have developed one of the best pedestrian protection systems ever assessed by Euro NCAP without any compromise to our distinctive styling or our class-leading aerodynamics performance."

Tough guy is given a makeover by Toyota

THE Toyota Land Cruiser enjoys a global reputation as an ultimate go-anywhere vehicle, a status built on its formidable performance in the world's toughest environments over more than 60 years.

Throughout that time, Land Cruiser has been progressively developed to harness new technologies to extend its capabilities, both on-road and off, and to increase in customer appeal in terms of styling, comfort and practicality.

Toyota has introduced a series of improvements that give Land Cruiser new styling, an improved interior and revised handling for the 2014 model year.

The reworked design preserves the model's distinctive identity, while the interior changes raise quality, convenience and ease of use.

Detailed adjustments to the suspensions systems – both the standard set-up and the Kinetic Dynamic Suspension System (KDSS) featured on higher grade models – deliver even better stability and ride comfort.

The new front-end treatment is the stand-out feature of the 2014 Land Cruiser's refreshed design.

Toyota has introduced a more prominent grille that marks an evolution of the traditional arrangement of five parallel vertical bars, giving them a stronger appearance and sinking them into the upper edge of the new, deeper front bumper. According to model grade, the bars have a metallic or silver finish.

The new headlamp clusters and running lights now form a single unit with the grille and the entire structure is set higher, making it less vulnerable to damage when driving off-road. The lamp units incorporate the high and low beam lights, turn indicators and DRLs; halogen or LED headlamps and DRLs will be offered, according to grade. In a neat touch, the units feature discreet Land Cruiser branding and a contrasting black and powder-coated aluminium internal finish.

Protects

The over-size bumper has a two-step design that further protects the headlights above. In spite of adding 20mm to the front overhang, its sharply cut-away bottom edge means there is no change to the vehicle's turning circle (5.2m for the three-door, 5.8m for the five-door) or its approach angle when driving off-road.

The wheelbase and rear overhang are unchanged, with overall vehicle lengths increased to 4,335mm (three-door) and 4,780mm (five-door).

At the rear the lamp clusters have been redesigned with clear lens blocks and red accents and the licence plate surround has been rendered more prominent.

New 17 and 18-inch wheel designs have been introduced and the range of exterior colours will include a number of new mica finishes. The new Land Cruiser's cabin gains new trims and detailing that raise the overall tactile and perceived quality. The dashboard has been redesigned with a focus on making the vehicle's drive systems easier to access and monitor.

The centre console gains a new switch panel that brings together the controls for the on and off-road driving technologies. These include a new selector dial for the five-mode Multi-Terrain Select and five-step Crawl Control, flanked by switches for the all-wheel drive and Adaptive Variable Suspension.

Controls

Making the systems easier to use doesn't end there: the new 2014 Land Cruiser also gains a 4.2-inch TFT colour screen, set between the main meters in the driver's instrument binnacle.

The choice of function has been extended to include an angle gauge, traction control operation on each wheel and the status of the differential locks.

The driver can select the screen functions using a control on the steering wheel, with additional new options including tyre pressure warning, headlamp levelling, traction control "off" confirmation and Blind Spot Monitor alerts.

The Optitron speedometer and tachometer have a new look, with thinner needles and blue illumination.

In the five-door Land Cruiser, access to the third row seats has been made easier by increasing the folding angle of the second row seats from 33.8 to 46 degrees. Seat upholstery has also been upgraded with double stitching for cloth and contrast colour stitching for leather.

The comprehensive safety provisions on Land Cruiser will be extended with Toyota's Blind Spot Monitor and Rear Cross Traffic Alert systems.

The new 2014 Land Cruiser retains the classic body-on-frame construction that helps define its exceptional off-road ability. This ruggedness doesn't mean a sacrifice in the kind of comfort customers require for day-to-driving.

In the UK Land Cruiser will continue to use its proven 188bhp 3.0-litre turbodiesel engine, matched to a five-speed automatic transmission.

The four-cylinder, 16-valve unit has been revised to meet Euro 5+ emissions standards, but with no decrease in performance: 420Nm of torque is available from 1,600 to 3,000rpm and nought to 62mph acceleration is accomplished in 10.2 seconds (three-door) or 11.0 seconds (five-door); CO2 emissions have been reduced to 209 and 214g/km for the three and five-door models respectively.

Land Cruiser gains a 4.2-inch TFT colour screen and new look speedometer

Bumper sales send an upbeat message

Figures show that the '13' plate has been the best selling six month period for new car sales in five years

THE '13' registration number has proved lucky for new car sales in the UK as it has been the best selling six-month period in nine registration plate changes.

From March 1 to the end of August, the number of 13-plate cars sold totalled 1,115,459 in the UK to make this the most successful new car sales period in five years.

The Society of Motor Manufacturers and Traders, which compiles new car sales information, says this bodes well for the 63-reg that began on September 1. It reckons more than the £6 billion will be spent on new cars in the six months from September 1 to the end of February 2014.

"We have seen a strong performance from the new car market throughout 2013, with the number of cars registered increasing in July for the 17th successive month," said Mike Baunton, SMMT interim chief executive. "Now we have evidence of consistent growth, we have raised our forecast for 2013 new car registrations to 2.216 million units, an increase of over eight per cent on last year," he added.

"In line with this positive trend, we expect the new 63 plate to be very successful and for September registrations to provide a similar peak to that seen in March."

March is typically the month for the highest number of registrations, with September coming a close second. More than a third of annual registrations occur in March and September combined, with the other months typically accounting for 6.5 per cent of the annual total.

Glaring advice for dazzling autumn drive

AS we move from summer into Autumn the early morning and evening sun can be blinding for many drivers sometimes leaving them almost blind while driving.

The Institute of Advanced Motoring (IAM) is offering some timely advice to keep motorists safe during the seasonal transition.

Always keep a good pair of sunglasses in the car – they really will make a big difference.

If you can't see, do the obvious thing and slow down, keeping an eye on the vehicle behind in case the following traffic can't see you because of the sun.

If the sun is behind you, it's in the eyes of drivers coming towards you – be aware that they might not see you or the road markings between you and them.

Mirrors

Low sun behind can dazzle you through your mirrors, so be ready to dip the mirror and remember to check over your shoulder for vehicles in your blind spot.

Low sun highlights scratches and grime which can hinder your view, so keep your washer bottles topped up with a good quality screen wash and change your windscreen wipers every year. Turn on your headlights before sunset and keep them on for an hour after sunrise so that it's easier for other drivers to see you in twilight.

Rodger said: "Dirty windcreens make it even more difficult for drivers to see in the low sun we get every morning and late afternoon as winter draws closer."

"Your heater is often on the de-mist setting, blowing traffic fumes, suspended oil and smoke on to the inside of the screen which quickly builds up a film of grime which is a major cause of glare. Clean your screen inside and out with glass cleaner at least once a week."

Would you pass the test again?

Nine per cent of drivers in the West Midlands say they would struggle with having to reverse around a corner

HALF of all drivers would struggle with at least one part of the driving test if they had to retake it, according to an poll.

Parallel parking would be the hardest thing to get right, with women (32 per cent) twice as likely as men (16 per cent) to admit it.

Men (nine per cent) were nearly twice as likely as women (5 per cent) to say driving at an appropriate speed would be their downfall, says the AA/Populus poll.

Londoners (16 per cent) were the least likely to say parallel parking would be what they would find hardest to do to test standard, perhaps because they have to practise it more.

Drivers from eastern England (25 per cent), Yorkshire and Humberside (25 per cent) and East Midlands (24 per cent) were the most likely to choose parallel parking.

London drivers lived up to their aggressive reputation, with almost one in 20 saying that keeping a safe distance would be the hardest thing to do.

One in 20 of Welsh drivers thought they would struggle with reversing around a corner.

But, drivers from the West Midlands and Scotland were more likely to be hesitant about this, with nine per cent saying they would find it hard.

Use of mirrors highlighted a big difference among age groups with 12 per cent of 18 to 24-year-olds saying it is the thing they would find hardest to do correctly in a re-test, compared to just one per cent of over-65s.

Other research showed that one in 10 UK driving licence holders think they think they are 'quite' or 'very' unlikely to pass a re-test at all.

AA president Edmund King said: "It is alarming to think so many drivers out there think there is at least one aspect of driving that they would struggle to do to the standard required to pass a driving test."

"Being able to manoeuvre correctly, making proper observations and keeping a safe distance and speed are all very important parts of driving safely."

He added: "Driving is a skill for life and, although it is easy to let bad habits form after your test, drivers should make sure their skills are kept polished."

Qualified drivers with serious problems have been tackled by an expert team of AA Driving School instructors in the second series of Channel 5's, Dangerous Drivers' School and to mark it, the AA Charitable Trust has 2,000 free courses, like the ones taken on the show, available for nervous, lapsed or dangerous drivers.

NOTICE TO READERS
Please be aware that when purchasing a puppy there are some simple guidelines you can follow to ensure that you are not purchasing from a Puppy Farmer:

1. Try to ensure you visit the puppy whilst it is still with its Mother.
 2. Do not arrange to collect a puppy from any other location than that of the breeder.
 3. Ensure that you are given any KC documentation, if pedigree.
- Whilst Midland News Association publications take great care to avoid publication of advertisements from Puppy Farmers we cannot accept any liability should readers purchase from this kind of establishment.

SENIOR REPORTER

The Shropshire Star, one of Britain's biggest-selling regional newspapers, is looking for a Senior Reporter.

You would be working for one of this country's last remaining evening newspapers as well as contributing to our expanding digital operation.

We are looking for a committed, NJCT trained journalist who is able to write under pressure to multi-edition deadlines that run into the afternoon.

You should have a proven record of digging out the best off-diary news stories and features, together with an awareness of how to make the most of social media.

This is a rare opportunity to join the team at the Shropshire Star, part of the Midland News Association stable of publications across the Midlands.

You will benefit from a competitive salary, 25 days annual holiday and the chance to develop your career on one of the country's biggest evening newspapers.

(REF: NM1033)

CRI 23 - 27 (£21,145.50 - £24,032)

1 x 18.5 hrs (Stafford, Cannock and South Staffs)

T3 Staffordshire - Young Person's Substance Misuse Service is a multi-disciplinary specialist service providing assessment, advice, treatment and support to 10-18 year olds experiencing serious and complex substance misuse related problems in the County of Staffordshire. The service works closely with a range of other agencies to facilitate a full range of support for young people.

The successful candidate should have experience of multi-agency work, identification and assessment of a young person's needs and also be able to provide a referral response for under 18's in specific areas of support.

CRI are committed to ensuring the safeguarding and wellbeing of children and vulnerable adults, and all applicants will be required to demonstrate understanding of and commitment to best safeguarding practice. The successful postholder will be subject to an enhanced DBS check. Previous applicants need not apply.

STAFFORDSHIRE COUNTY COUNCIL

HIGHWAYS ACT 1980 - SECTION 90A

PROPOSED CONSTRUCTION OF FLAT TOP HUMPS ON A513 ARMITAGE ROAD AND A460 BRERETON ROAD, RUGELEY

Notice is hereby given that Staffordshire County Council propose to construct flat top humps in the under-mentioned locations for the purpose of calming traffic speeds. The flat top humps will be constructed as described below:-

Flat top hump, no less than 25 mm and no more than 100mm in height. Flat carriageway width, with a block paved plateau 3 metres in length. Bituminous ramp no more than 1:15 approach gradient on:

A513 Armitage Road, Rugeley (both sides) - approximately 17 metres north west of the junction with Arch Street.

Flat top hump, no less than 25 mm and no more than 100mm in height. Flat carriageway width, with a block paved plateau 3 metres in length. Bituminous ramp no more than 1:15 approach gradient on:

A460 Brereton Road, Rugeley (northbound) - approximately 23 metres south of the junction with Wharf Road.

Full details of the proposal which, together with a map showing the area and position of the flat top humps may be inspected during normal office hours at my office and during normal opening hours at Rugeley Library, Anson Street, Rugeley, Staffordshire or via the internet at www.staffordshire.gov.uk/trafficregulationorders

If you wish to object to the proposals you should send the grounds for your objection in writing, indicating the locations to the undersigned not later than 07 November 2013 quoting reference HoCPS/TM/ TR25/13.

Chasetown 0
Mickleover Sports 2

AFTER the highs of a second-half comeback the week before against Rugby Town, Chasetown stuttered to a disappointing defeat against an impressive Mickleover side.

A stop-start first half saw player upon player conceding free kicks and entering the referee's note book, but it was from one of those free kicks that the Scholars eventually forced the Mickleover goalies into a save of worth, punching away a Grant Beckett curling free kick.

The visitors sensed that their hosts were there for the taking though and started the second half very much on top.

Mickleover took the lead just short of the 70 minute mark with Simeon Oshoboke the recipient to finish crisply past Ryan Price.

Even the introduction of two-goal sub Danny Griffiths failed to alter the pattern of the game and Mickleover finished the stronger and deservedly doubled their lead when Oshoboke netted his sixth goal of the season with a well struck shot.

Defenders' injury fear for Wolves

WOLVES face an anxious wait over two defenders in the countdown to Saturday's derby against Coventry.

Matt Doherty withdraw from the Ireland Under-21s squad with a groin injury sustained in their 0-0 draw with Romania in the UEFA Under-21 Championships qualifying round on Friday.

The in-form right-back, who set up two goals in the 3-0 win at Colchester last time out, returned to Compton for treatment.

He tweeted: "Disappointed to have to pull out of the 21s game on Tuesday but if you're not right there is no point in risking further injury."

Wolves will be hoping Doherty and captain Sam Ricketts will be fit for the visit of the Sky Blues.

Ricketts was not out due to return to training until Wednesday or Thursday after having an injection in his knee last Thursday.

Losing both would be a big blow.

Last-gasp goal forces replay in FA Cup

FA Cup Third Qualifying Round-
Hednesford Town 2
West Auckland Town 2

WEST Auckland Town salvaged a draw deep into stoppage time, despite looking dead on their feet.

Hednesford Town had recovered from a goal down to lead 2-1 during a superb second half.

Played in wet and windy conditions for most of the game, a flurry of bookings early on played into the hands of the away side as the rhythm of the game was disrupted by the stoppages which included injuries and discussions with both captains. The home side had chance after chance throughout the game, Ben Bailey was inches away from connecting with a header across goal on eight minutes.

Elliott Durrell curled a free kick which was superbly tipped wide by Jordan Nixon and, from the resulting corner, Bailey and Francino Francis failed to score within the scramble of players, hitting the post, the bar and having a shot cleared off the line.

After Neil Harvey rounded the goalkeeper and saw his effort desperately cleared off the line on the stroke of half time, Nixon continued his inspired form in West Auckland's goal by saving brilliantly from Wayne Riley just after the break but then, out of nowhere, Robert Briggs' thunderbolt gave the underdogs a surprise lead on 50 minutes.

The West Auckland player found space on the right wing and, perhaps understandably considering the distance from goal, was allowed to shoot by The Pitmen defence, only for him to catch the ball perfectly and beat Dan Crane

Their goal finally came from substitute Nathan Wolfe on 70 minutes as his header bobbed beyond the attempts to clear the ball off the line.

Handy

The equaliser knocked the stuffing out of the away side and Hednesford's second goal came from an outstanding piece of play by Durrell.

The top-scorer showed he can also do a handy line in assists as he picked the ball up on the right hand touchline and sent in a raking cross which Neil Harvey superbly headed back over Nixon's head to give the home side the lead on 77 minutes.

That goal looked to have put Hednesford through and Harvey could have settled the game but he lashed wide when through on goal.

However, despite West Auckland's resistance seemingly being broken, they raised one final effort and the away support went crazy as Lewis Gaplin swept past Crane at the death to bring the scores level and force the replay match.

Burntwood made to work hard for points

Burntwood 32 Eccleshall 17

BURNTWOOD did not have things all their own way at home to Eccleshall, particularly during the second quarter.

However, they still managed a bonus point win to retain their place at the top of the table, now just one of two undefeated sides in the division. On the first wet and breezy match day of the season it was perhaps no surprise that four of the host's five tries came from forwards Danny Poole and Luke Rookyard.

The first was set up by skipper Ian Jones after seven minutes.

He collected a clearance kick and chipped it towards the right corner then chased and recovered possession to send his forwards rucking towards the try line for Poole to score. Will Peach made the conversion.

The hosts were almost in again six minutes later after stealing an Eccleshall scrum. They worked the ball left but winger James Langford could not take the final pass.

On 21 minutes, the ball was moved wide and Poole exchanged passes with Matt Sisson, which left the former with a free run to the line. Peach converted.

Eccleshall were rewarded when a change of pace and diagonal run took a player under the posts for a converted try.

Burntwood's Graham Shelley was yellow carded and Eccleshall capitalised by forcing their way over in the corner after 36 minutes.

Rugby

Shelley's return = at the start of the second period was highlighted when he and Corey Douglas featured in a forwards' drive through centre field two minutes in.

When the ball reached Holt, he accelerated through a gap for a try near the right corner flag.

Both sides defended well until the hour mark when Shelley took a hand in proceedings again.

His drive from a tapped penalty towards the posts brought another Eccleshall infringement. Neal tapped the ball to Rookyard and he crashed over the line for the bonus point try.

Peach missed the conversion but increased the lead with a penalty to make it 27-12.

Five minutes later a hit on Peplow before he received the ball resulted in another penalty. Rookyard was again the beneficiary when the ball was tapped and spun wide for him to touch down.

Eccleshall came back and a forward broke through to score close to full time.

First-half points are enough to earn win

BURNTWOOD A XV kept their place at the top of the rugby merit table with their fourth win in four starts after returning from Cooke Fields with a 17-3 win.

Dave Ward's side made a slow start and fell behind to a penalty goal to put Lichfield 3rds 3-0 ahead.

The Burntwood forwards gradually roused themselves and set up an attack for Craig Seedhouse to score in the corner.

Suitably encouraged, the forwards went on to dominate during the rest of the first half and paved the way for Charlie Liggins to score.

All the scoring was completed before the break when skipper Ward took off from the back of a ruck to side step his way over from 30 metres for a try converted by Liggins.

The second period proved to be a stalemate as the Burntwood forwards and defence prevented any comeback by the hosts.

Burntwood Development Squad topped 70 points for the second week running, beating Bloxwich 2nds in a merit table fixture by 78-7 at The Sportsway with 12 tries.

Top points scorers was Craig Addy who added nine conversions to his two tries.

Liam wants more after debut goal

WOLVES striker Liam McAlinden is hungry for more goals after breaking his Football League duck on his debut for Shrewsbury.

The Cannock-born 20-year-old took just seven minutes to get off the mark after replacing fellow on-loan debutant striker Cristian Lopez from Huddersfield in the 74th minute, scoring the second goal in a 2-0 win against Gillingham on Saturday.

The goal was McAlinden's first in the league and second in five senior appearances after making his debut as a substitute in the 2-1 defeat against Burnley in April.

Now he wants to hit the net regularly for Graham Turner's side to catch the eye of Wolves head coach Kenny Jackett.

"It's a great start for me to score," said McAlinden.

"The gaffer put me on to score goals and that's why I'm here (at Shrewsbury)."

Positive signs in five-goal home win

Cannock Ladies 1st 5 Matlock Bailans 1st 0
CANNOCK continue to show positive signs in their bid for promotion back into hockey's National League. The home team dominated the game from the start, and solid performances from the defenders laid the foundations for goals from Gray, Spencer, Booth, Martin and Graham. Cannock's player of the match went to Julie Gray.

Cannock Ladies 2nd 0 Leamington 1

LUKE PALMER became the youngest boxer to represent Great Wyrley ABC when he fought fellow 10-year-old Hamza Khan, of Pleck ABC, at Bescot Stadium.

No decision is given in the 'skills' bout, but both lads showed off their talents and received warm applause.

James Robb, 21, made his debut in a Wyrley vest, but came up short against Pleck's Justin Cooksey.

Welterweight Robb was under fire from the start as Cooksey drove him backwards but in the second round he mounted some attacks that drew blood from Cooksey's nose.

Reece Roberts got a bye to this week's semi final of the West Midland NABC.

Great Wyrley's first competitive show in five years is on November 7. Call 07957 601424 for details.

Seven up as Victoria continue victorious

Cannock Chase Football League Division Two

TITLE favorites, Victoria, made it seven wins from seven with a comfortable 7-1 thrashing of Hawkins Inex. Goals by Jamie Simpkins, Dan Battison, Domanic Oliver, Shaun Derry, Adam Davis and a double for Steve Cook puts the Vic nine points clear.

Trafalgar won their first game of the season beating Ascot 2-0. Corey Matthews and Ben Burdett goals lifted them off the bottom.

AFC Slade beat Samson Blewitt 7-5 with a Mark Reynolds hat-trick. Adam Dunning, Richard Oades, Ant Penwright and a Levi Hodgkiss penalty completed the scoring.

An Adam Langley double gave all three points to the Talbot as they beat Lea Hall 2-1. Collier Arms drew 1-1 with Cheslyn Hay.

Division Three
Leaders Crystal Fountain beat Winding Wheel 6-2. Jake West scored two and Ryan Tongue, Jamie Murphy and Mark and Dave Harrison scored one each.

Second placed King George V casals came from a goal down to beat Mill Farm 3-1 with three second half goals from a Josh Wyrley Juniors fought back from two goals down to score three goals in the last 20 minutes to beat Jubilee 3-2. Josh Bradley got two with one for Dan Bourke. The Castle beat Brinsford Prison 6-2.

Bridgtown Social beat FC Colliers 4-3. Matty Aish, Tom Dawson and two goals from Dave Hudson put them fourth.

Division Four

Pear Tree thrashed Woody's 9-1 to maintain their 100 per cent record. Andy Guy scored four goals followed by goals from Neil and Matt Harvey, Jordan Mansell, Keiron Powell and Danny Wood.

AFC Fern fought back from a goal down to beat Essington 3-2. Grant McCathy equalised with a great individual goal. Jack Bagnall and then the winning goal from a 25-yard free-kick from Chris Murdoch got the three points.

Nags Head beat Cannock Rgs 4-2 thanks to Isaac Cooper's two goals and one from Stuart Clarke.

Hen House beat Rugeley Rgs 5-2. Shaun Green, Liam Martin, Simon Traatt and a double from John Cox won the game.

Despite a second-half hat-trick in four minutes from Danny Stevens, Pied Piper was denied all the three points when the Nest battled back to draw 3-3 with a last-minute equaliser.

Brereton Town Cup Round 1
Three times winners Belt Road knocked out Hawkins Sports 3-1. Chris Deakin, Stuart Bradford and Matty Latham all scored. CK Courtyard knocked out Harrisons 2-0 thanks to a Ben Farrell double.

Defender in move to the Pitmen

DEFENDER Paul McCone has again bid farewell to Stourbridge – less than two weeks after returning to the club to join Hednesford Town.

He has now accepted an offer from Skrilf North outfit.

The centre-back initially left the Glassboys in the summer to join Leamington but came back to Amblecote this month and featured in three games – including Saturday's 3-0 FA Cup win over Curzon Ashton.

A statement on the Stourbridge website read: "We are naturally disappointed to see him move on once again, but wish Paul well for the future."

McCone was ever-present for the Glassboys last term as they finished runners-up in the Southern League Premier.

Staffordshire Senior Cup Leek Town 1 Chasetown 2

THE Scholars came from behind to earn a face-to-face encounter with their old adversaries Rushall Olympic in the next round, with a score of two to two to settle!

After a disappointing result at the weekend, Chasetown were hoping for a positive start but it was unbeaten league leaders Leek who started the better.

They deservedly took the lead in the 20th minute when a former Scholar Jordan Johnson beat Ryan Price.

Chasetown's start to the game was stutter but gradually they asserted some confident passing in the midfield, albeit failing to probe Leek Town too much nor challenge goalkeeper Ben Chapman.

In fact, it took a neat move between Nick Wellecommme and Danny Griffiths in the closing minutes of the half to force Chapman into his first save – the ball straight at him from Walsall loanee Griffiths.

After the break though, Chasetown looked sharper and it took just eight minutes for Craig Harris' men to draw level.

A through ball into the path of Griffiths was weighted perfectly for the striker to get ahead of his defender and lash a shot inside Chapman's left hand post.

Wellecommme felt he had claims for a penalty when Andy Bratt caught him inside the box.

Cannock 2 H&W 3

AFTER Cannock's return to form last week in the NOW Pensions Premier League, with a win over Canterbury, they hoped to progress to another against Hampstead and Westminster.

A rare defensive error by Cannock gave away a penalty corner, which Hampstead's Dave Smith converted for their first.

Cannock pushed but were dealt a sucker punch when Hampstead's Richard Hildreth broke to fire home their second.

They were presented with a life-line shortly before half time when a penalty stroke was awarded, but Dave Beckett's 26th minute hit cannoned back off the post.

Cannock pushed Hampstead hard in the second half and a brace of goals from Beckett brought the scores level.

As Cannock looked for the winner, Hampstead unleashed their secret weapon – a squirrel.

The umpire stopped time to remove it from the pitch and that distraction was enough for Hampstead to restart the game before Cannock had set and Toby Roche slotted home their winner.

Nobody wants outcast O'Hara

WOLVES outcast Jamie O'Hara has changed agents in a fresh bid to drum up interest in him, it has emerged – after failing to attract a single inquiry.

Head coach Kenny Jackett revealed his surprise at the alarming snub by the footballing world that has led the transfer-listed £5m midfielder to change his representative.

Wolves have also rubbished a recent tabloid story claiming the 27-year-old would be allowed out on loan for £5,000-a-week – around a quarter of the former Tottenham man's weekly wage.

O'Hara has played four games for Wolves Under-21s this season, each time watched by up to 40 scouts.

He scored twice and set up another in the 4-0 win over Reading's second string but it appears no-one is willing to take a gamble on him.

"We've had no inquiries about him whatsoever," said Jackett.

"Every time he's played for our Under-21s he's been very impressive and put in some good performances."

He added: "It's surprised me there's been no interest."

O'Hara polarises opinions. Some fans are unprepared to forgive him after he angered supporters at Brighton on the last day of the season. Others believe his creativity is missed and he should return.

Smith backs loan striker

DEAN SMITH is backing forward Milan Lalkovic to come through his indifferent form.

The Chelsea loanee is back with the Saddlers having been away on international duty with Slovakia under-21s and will hope to be involved in Saturday's home clash with Stevenage.

He has not scored since the opening day win over Tranmere Rovers and has been substituted in his last two appearances, again-st Leyton Orient and Bradford.

At Orient the 20-year-old was withdrawn after becoming visibly frustrated.

"Milan started the season like a house on fire and did really well," said Smith.

"But what we have to remember is it's his first full season playing league football and he is the youngest player in our team."

"What we have to do is nurse him through."

Hayes fire into form to send Sphinx spinning

Heath Hayes 3 Coventry Sphinx 1

HEATH Hayes produced their best Midland Alliance League performance so far this season to comfortably beat a Sphinx side who have had some very impressive results of late.

Sphinx posed the early threat and the home side were relieved to see a 30-yard thunderbolt from Ben Atkins go inches wide.

Hayes should have gone ahead on 10 minutes when Tom Green failed to convert a superb cross from Adam Langley.

It was the first of many inspired contributions from Langley, playing in a wide left side role, as he tormented the visiting defence all afternoon.

Football

Mitch Teece put the home side ahead on 28 minutes firing home from 20 yards.

Hayes were now playing with confidence throughout the whole team and looked a good well balanced side who at long last were producing a brand of football that should bode well for the rest of the season.

However, Sphinx did come more into the game as the first half closed but the home goal was never seriously threatened. The visitors started the second half with two quick corners which came to nothing before Hayes increased their lead.

Teece won the ball in midfield and drove forward before setting up Chris Geldart to fire home from 15 yards.

Again the visitors came back strongly enjoying plenty of possession but with keeper Adam Jenkins handling the greasy ball confidently and with the defence being superbly marshalled by Ben Maddox, they never looked a real threat, while Hayes always looked dangerous with their pacy counter attacks. They made the game safe on 80 minutes when sub Alex Roope typified the team's spirit chasing a seemingly-lost cause and winning the ball in the right hand corner before crossing to Dave Waple, whose shot was charged down by keeper Carl O'Neil but the alert Langley fired home to crown a Man of the Match performance.

Hayes' hopes of recording their first clean sheet of the season were dashed in the 89 minute when a 25 yard free-kick by Aden Moore was despatched with such power and accuracy that it would have graced any game, anywhere.

Jubilant fans run for cover

HEDNESFORD TOWN supporters were subjected to a 'hail of stones' after the team's FA Cup win at West Auckland, it has been claimed.

The Pitmen won their replay 4-2 on penalties despite being reduced to nine men after Dave MacPherson and Ben Bailey were sent off.

But the win was overshadowed when supporters came under attack as they tried to leave Auckland's Seagrave Stadium.

The coach taking them home was forced to drive off, leaving around 15 fans behind, only returning later when the mood had calmed.

Club spokesman Scott Smith said: "They had to open the fire exit at the back of the coach to get people in."

"When we came out of the ground there was a group of around 15 youths hanging around. I've never seen anything like it. A lot of people were having to run to the coach because there was a hail of stones coming down."

"It was horrible. We had quite a few elderly supporters there and it was dark so you couldn't see anything coming, you could only hear things landing around you."

"Thankfully no-one was hurt."

SAM MANTOM has expressed his hope of an extended contract at Walsall.

The Saddlers have already given longer deals to James Baxendale and Paul Downing.

Smith is keen to tie down several more players and midfielder Mantom, whose current deal expires at the end of the season, hopes to be among them.

The Chronicle, a Midland News Association Ltd publication, printed by the company at Kettle, Telford, Thursday, October 17, 2013.

RED-CARD PITMEN WIN ON PENALTIES

West Auckland Town 2 Hednesford Town 2 AET
(Hednesford win 4-2 on pens)

HEDNESFORD Town recorded an absolutely superb victory on penalties against plucky West Auckland Town.

The Pitmen defended like lions for almost an hour with nine men and prevailed in the most dramatic fashion.

Kris Taylor scored the winning penalty but that barely tells half the story as the home side belied the three league gap with a battling performance.

However, full credit must go to the heart and desire of Rob Smith's men, who defended like their lives depended on it and could have even won the game in extra time.

Matthew Moffat swept in the opening goal on 33 minutes for West Auckland but Wayne Riley equalised when goalkeeper Jordan Nixon stood like a statue as the Hednesford forward tapped in from a yard out on 42 minutes.

Deflected

Moffat deflected his second goal past Dan Crane on the stroke of half time but Francino Francis equalised on 52 minutes to restore parity.

The game changed when 30 seconds after he had hit the post, Dave MacPherson saw red for a late tackle and within three minutes Ben Bailey received a second yellow for kicking the ball away.

The momentum swung to the home side but they lacked the composure to finish The Pitmen off and when they did get through, Dan Crane was unbeatable.

FA Cup Third Round Qualifier

Osborne had a nailed-on penalty shout turned down and was subsequently, mystifyingly, booked for diving in extra time.

Nixon saved at the feet of the Hednesford man when he latched on to a poor back pass but Crane once again excelled as he saved brilliantly at the death to take the game to spot kicks.

The Pitmen keeper then saved two penalties in the shoot-out to set up Taylor to strike the final, decisive blow in a truly memorable cup tie which will live long in the memory of the hardy, committed Hednesford fans who witnessed it.

Jack Owen and Luke Purchase are competing in the Lionheart Fighting Championships 3 at the Premier Suite in High Green on Saturday.

Owen, who has a record of five wins from five bouts, is fighting for the lightweight British title in Mixed Martial Arts, while Purchase, who has a 100 per cent record from six contests, fights for the Welterweight British title in Mixed Martial Arts.

Both lads fight out of Cannock's Ultimate Training Centre, Wolverhampton Road, which has produced some of the world's best fighters.

The fighters compete in a specially-designed 18ft cage, with a referee and three judges to decide the victor on fights that go the full distance.

The event will also see a full supporting card of top level fight action.

Lionheart chairman Brendan Lees holds this event twice a year to generate funds to support local youth in sport through sponsorship and academy scholarships.

Tickets for the fight night are available through the Ultimate Training Centre. Call 01543 469964 or visit www.utcstaffs.co.uk
